

YANKS SMASH INLAND IN PHILIPPINES

NEW DEALISM
IS BANKRUPT,
DEWEY THINKSREPUBLICAN LEADER
ASSAILS ONE-MAN
GOVERNMENT

BY GARDNER BRIDGE
Pittsburgh, Oct. 20 (AP)—Loosing a new barrage at what he calls "one-man government," Thomas E. Dewey tonight declared that President Roosevelt is trying to make political capital out of social gains which he said were initiated by Republican administrations.

The New York governor promised to expand and broaden these gains if elected.

After declaring that Democrats resent "the kidnapping of their party by the Communists and the political action committee," the Republican presidential nominee said in a prepared broadcast:

"It is time to face the fact that the New Deal is a bankrupt organization, living only to extend its powers over the daily lives of our people."

Return To Doles

He conceded the New Deal "did some good things in its youth," but declared that "now it seeks to live on its past."

"In this great national campaign," he said, "my opponent has not offered to the people of this country even the pretense of a program for the future. He tells the working men and women of America to trust him, to do as they are told and ask no questions. That is the end result under one-man government, always."

"It is the inevitable end of a philosophy which sees no real future for America. It is the result of a viewpoint that can see nothing ahead but a repetition of its own peacetime failures—a return after the war to unemployment, with leaf raking and doles."

"I am sure America will never submit to that dreary prospect," he continued. "We are going forward to swift, total victory over our enemies abroad. We are going to take the lead in building a world organization for lasting peace, and here at home, we are going to establish a government which will make possible a vigorous productive economy with jobs and opportunity for all."

Ten Million Jobs

The New York governor, who came here from Albany for a one-stop appearance and planned to return to the New York capital immediately, earlier expressed belief that Mr. Roosevelt's decision to campaign actively in Philadelphia, New York and other cities indicated fear of defeat.

"The natural inference," he told a press conference, "would be that Roosevelt is trying to reverse a trend which is now so strong that it indicates a Republican victory in November."

This was in response to a request for comment on the apparent deviation from Mr. Roosevelt's earlier statement that he would not campaign in the usual sense. In his speech at the Hunt Armory here, which was broadcast nationally, Dewey asserted the slogan of the New Deal is:

"Back to normalcy with ten million unemployed."

CHINESE HANG ON

Chungking, Oct. 20 (AP)—Chinese troops are holding the Japanese at bay in the vicinity of Tungkiang, 23 miles north of the impregnable provincial capital of Kweilin. Maj. Gen. Chang Tung-Chuen, a Chinese army spokesman, said today.

Gold King Prepares
To Bring Bankroll
Aid To Philippines

New Richmond, O., Oct. 20 (AP)—Judge John W. Haussermann, 76-year-old gold king of the Philippines, will follow General MacArthur back to the islands "soon"—with a bankroll of millions to aid in restoring them to western world prosperity.

He so announced today, jubilant at news from the Pacific. "Boy, that's dandy! That's swell!" He beamed from his desk as president of this Ohio river village's National Bank. "Now I can get back on the job in a short while."

POSTWAR AUTO
BOOM EXPECTEDFord Plans $150,000,000
Expansion Program For 40 Million Owners

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

Detroit, Oct. 20 (AP)—A projected $150,000,000 postwar expansion program based upon a belief that there will be close to 40,000,000 car owners in the United States after the war, was disclosed today by the Ford Motor company.

The program includes the reopening of all the pre-war Ford assembly plants, including those at Buffalo, N. Y., and Long Beach, Calif., and the construction of at least one more assembly and one more manufacturing plant. Under present plans the two additional plants would be located here, said Henry Ford II, executive vice-president of the company.

Also contemplated is the setting up of at least 10 more parts depots throughout the country, including one in Denver, Colo., to cost in excess of $500,000.

Of the company's postwar passenger car plans Ford said the initial models while built substantially along the lines of the 1942 types would "incorporate more changes than some of the industry's year-to-year revisions in pre-war days."

Ford said the company already had decided upon a second postwar line of cars to include the already announced lower-priced model, which it was planned to bring out some time after the postwar vehicles.

Candidate Roosevelt
Invades New York
For Politics Only

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt dusted off his old campaign hat and favorite Navy cape tonight and was all ready for a major political sortie tomorrow into vote-heavy New York City.

It is not as president, not as commander-in-chief, but as candidate Roosevelt that he is invading New York for a full day's electioneering and an expanded foreign policy address.

Censorship restrictions which have cloaked all movements of the chief executive were lifted for the first time since the war began. And, as in pre-war days, the president took a full crew of reporters and photographers aboard his special train.

Mr. Roosevelt left the whole day free to complete the speech he will deliver at a foreign policy association dinner at the Waldorf Astoria hotel tomorrow night, presumably in answer to Thomas E. Dewey's foreign affairs address last Wednesday.

Guerrillas Speed
Up Greek Victory

Rome, Oct. 20 (AP)—Greek guerrilla forces were credited by the Allied high command today with aiding in speeding the withdrawal of the Germans through northern Greece toward Yugoslavia, while British troops occupied the legendary city of Thebes, 62 miles northwest of Athens.

A reliable Cairo source said the Germans were evacuating the large island of Lemnos in the northern Aegean sea, leaving probably the equivalent of two divisions spread out over western Crete, Rhodes, Cos, Leros and Melos.

NAVY MEN SHIFTED

A British Port, Oct. 20 (AP)—Hundreds of United States Navy personnel who jammed English ports before D-Day have been freed by the reduction of amphibious activity in the English channel and are returning home for leave and reassignment, or going direct to other war zones.

OPEN ODT OFFICE—Here for the establishment of a new ODT district office in Escanaba yesterday were Thomas A. Snyder (left), assistant regional director of the Office of Defense Transportation, Chicago; and Albert G. Weppeler (right), who will be manager of the new district office in Escanaba. Snyder will return to Chicago when the office set-up is completed. The office is located in the First National Bank building on the same floor with the district OPA office. Fred Wray of Mason City, Iowa, will be assistant district manager here. Others of the ODT here yesterday as plans were made for opening the office were Edward J. Konkol, district manager of Green Bay; William Speck, Chicago, of the regional administrative office; W. B. Schlepphorst, and Howard J. Walters, examiners. (Daily Press photo.)

Flaming Gas Blasts
Devastate Homes In Cleveland; 28 Dead

Cleveland, Oct. 20 (AP)—The death list mounted tonight in the wake of thunderous explosions which ripped a $6,000,000 liquid gas storage plant and spread the most devastating fire in Cleveland's history over a 50-block east side area.

Still raging virtually uncontrolled eight hours after the initial blast, the blaze made an estimated 3,600 homeless and forced possibly 10,000 families to evacuate yet undamaged homes because of disruption of utilities and danger of further explosions.

Fire Chief James E. Granger estimated damages at "between $3,000,000 and $5,000,000," but added the estimate probably would have to be revised upward. He said the fire probably would continue most of tomorrow.

The number of casualties mounted during the night to 28 known dead. Eighteen persons were reported missing.

Directing scores of police in the seared area, Detective Inspector Frank Storey led he personally had seen 12 bodies among charred remnants in the wake of the inferno. At police headquarters, Capt. Harry Weiss said reports from officers at the scene indicated a fatality toll of possibly 40.

An earth-shaking explosion of one of the East Ohio Gas Company's two special liquid gas tanks at East 61st St. and the New York Central railroad tracks sent flames hundreds of feet skyward about 2:50 p. m. (Central War Time). Witnesses said the blast hurled a canopy of fire over frame structures in the immediate vicinity and shattered windows more than a mile distant.

Officials of the East Ohio Gas Co., owner of the $6,000,000 liquid gas tanks, said today.

Hillsdale Has No
Ice; Dealer Quits
In Tiff With OPA

Hillsdale, Mich., Oct. 20 (AP)—Hillsdale's only ice dealer, Paul Elliott, went out of business today, cutting off the ice supply for the city's hospital, baking company, and 500 homes.

Elliott, owner of the Elliott Ice and Coal Co., stated that he had received no satisfaction from the Detroit OPA office in response to his August request for permission to raise the price of ice from 50 to 70 cents per hundred pounds. He said the additional charge was necessary to offset higher costs. W. E. Fitzgerald, Detroit district OPA director, said that the company's books had been checked, and that that records revealed no necessity for an increase in prices.

Cigarettes Cornered
By Black Markets
In Detroit Region

Detroit, Oct. 20 (AP)—Asserting that black market operators have cornered a large part of the cigarette supply here, Theorem M. Hall, chief Office of Price Administration enforcement attorney, said today "one of the principal outlets for black market cigarettes is in war plants where cigarettes are selling from 25 to 30 cents a package."

Hall also said "retailers have told OPA that non-smokers are buying 20 percent of Detroit's supply of cigarettes."

WRECKED CITY,
AACHEN FALLS
TO AMERICANSGERMAN REMNANTS
MOPPED UP BY FIRST ARMY

BY DON WHITEHEAD

Aachen, Germany, Oct. 20 (AP)—The German border city of Aachen, reduced to wreckage by American shells and bombing planes and torn by days of savage street fighting, fell today to American troops who drove the last of its desperately resisting Nazi garrison from their burrows in the city proper.

Tonight the victorious Yanks began mopping up the remnants of Nazis hopelessly trapped in pockets on the outskirts of this mass of wreckage. There were estimated to be between 500 and 1,000 Germans trapped in the city, in addition to approximately 2,000 already captured.

Strongpoint Knocked Out

Troops under the command of Lt. Col. Merrill Daniel of Geneva, N. Y., knocked out the last major German strongpoint in the city at 3:30 p. m. (10:30 a. m. EDT) with direct fire from a 155 mm. rifle blasting at close range. The big gun literally knocked down a building in which Elite Guard troops had made a last desperate stand.

A Yang private sitting in a window several yards in front of the gun was blown from his perch by the muzzle blast and knocked all the way across the room. With the strongpoint reduced to smoke and rubble, the doughboys swiftly advanced through the remainder of the ruined city and squeezed the Nazis into a final pocket.

Lt. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' First army troops have been attacking Aachen, medieval seat of Charlemagne's empire and important bastion of the Siegfried line, since Sept. 15. On Oct. 19 the city's German garrison was ordered to surrender within 24 hours or be annihilated by American guns and planes. When the ultimatum was rejected the Yanks launched an all-out assault that quickly settled into house-to-house fighting with bayonets, bazookas and self-propelled guns.

Cathedral Spared

Aachen, whose peacetime population, 165,000, is 40 miles from Cologne on the Rhine and 340 miles from Berlin.

Its famous cathedral, resting place of Charlemagne, was standing tonight with only relatively minor wounds.

Canadian armor and infantry opened a new offensive Friday north of Antwerp along the main Antwerp-Rosendael highway, aimed at giving flanking insurance to other Canadian forces who had sealed the neck of the peninsula leading onto South Beveland and Walcheren Islands north of the Schelde estuary. The new drive gained more than five miles in the first few hours, a front dispatch said.

The damage in Aachen is appalling, and if the German people in the cities to the east could see the havoc wrought by the decision of their leaders to fight in every street and every city it would be

The Roving Reporter

By ERNIE PYLE

Editor's Note: Ernie Pyle likes dogs. And here, in the 34th of his war dispatches that are being reprinted during his vacation, is a touching story about a dog.

Somewhere in Sicily, August, 1943—Before closing this series about the Navy I want to tell you of one member of our ship's crew who didn't make the invasion trip with us. She was the ship's dog, and this is the story of her and her master.

He is a regular Navy man, a petty officer of many years' service. He is tattooed, windburned, a bachelor, and quietly profane. His officers say he is an excellent worker. I'm not giving his name because the story concerns his getting drunk.

It seems that several months ago some sailors from our ship picked up a German shepherd puppy. She belonged to the whole crew, but the puppy took to our friend and he took to it, and sort of by acclamation she became recognized as his dog.

The puppy grew into a beautiful dog, smart, alert and sweet. But when hot weather came along she got the mange. Our friend doctored it with everything he could find, and other sailors helped him with the doctored, but still the mange got worse. They finally clipped her hair close so they could get medicine to her skin more thoroughly but nothing did any good.

When I came aboard ship this beautiful dog was frisky and alert but the sailors had given up all hope of curing her. Something had to be done. The other sailors left it up to our friend. Whatever he chose to do had their approval. He told me later that you couldn't just put her ashore, for she had grown up aboard ship and wouldn't know how to take care of herself on land.

So our friend solved it in his

Strike At Foe,
Filipinos Told
By MacArthur

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

General MacArthur's Headquarters, Philippines, Saturday, Oct. 21. (AP)—Yank ground forces have consolidated all beachheads on Leyte in the central Philippines and are moving inland, headquarters announced today in its second communique on the invasion. Ground casualties were reported comparatively light.

Food and supplies are pouring ashore as the invaders come to grips with the selfsame Japanese who tortured the Americans and Filipinos following the surrender at Bataan in 1942.

Two Ships Damaged

The Japanese air force dealt counterblows and succeeded in damaging one of the vessels of the 600-ship convoy, the communique said. Another was hit by shorefire.

The communique made no reference to a report from the invasion scene that the 6,000-foot airfield at Tacloban on Leyte had been seized.

Enemy opposition to the continued landings was reported light.

Filipinos Hear Appeal
MacArthur, who is backed by the greatest naval, air and troop masses ever assembled for an amphibious operation in the Pacific, issued his new communique after he had stood, rain-drenched, in a broken down signal truck and broadcast over a hand microphone an appeal to the Filipinos to strike the foe as their liberators advanced.

Front line dispatches from Associated Press correspondents reported bitter beachhead opposition to yesterday's landings only at one point but there four landing craft and several small craft were lost. (Mutual's radio reporter Gordon Walker said in a broadcast that Tacloban airfield had fallen to the Yanks but other frontline correspondents were heard today reporting the invaders were near the outskirts of that field.)

The bid for Tacloban airfield and the capital city of Tacloban is being made at one of the two chief points of attack on Leyte's east coast.

Pillboxes Blown Up
At the other, further south, front line reports said today forces have moved well inland at Dulag and have made adequate preparations against any possible enemy counterattacks.

The Japanese air force made frantic efforts to interfere with the operation but were handicapped by the preparatory attacks which knocked out the Philippines airfields.

The enemy, however, managed to send some bombers over the Leyte gulf area for the first time.

PEARL HARBOR
INQUIRY ENDED

Information All Secret;
Navy Secretary Will Study Reports

Washington, Oct. 20 (AP)—Navy Secretary Forrestal disclosed tonight that a board of inquiry has completed its investigation of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, and submitted to him a report on which he will determine what future action shall be taken.

The board divided its report into two sections, one bearing the "top secret" classification—the highest category of restricted information, and the other classified as "secret."

Forrestal said that he would submit the report to the Navy's judge advocate general and immediately after its legal form has been approved will begin his examination. The Navy secretary will determine what action now shall be taken in connection with dereliction of duty charges pending against Rear Admiral Husband E. Kimmel, Navy commander in the Pacific at the time of the attack. Similar charges are pending against Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, commander of Army forces in Hawaii at the time the Japanese attacked on Dec. 7, 1941, but no information is available on the status of the Army inquiry.

A few hours before Forrestal's announcement, President Roosevelt declined to be drawn into discussion of an assertion by Rep. Maas (R-Minn.) that the Naval board's report is being withheld from the public for political reasons.

Guatemalan Revolt
Ousts President;
New Regime Formed

Guatemala City, Oct. 20 (AP)—President Federico Ponce was overthrown today in a revolt led by young officers of the Guatemalan army and university students. A new government was promptly formed by a triumvirate of Capt. Jacobo Arben, Maj. Arana and Jorge Toriello, a civilian.

The movement started at 2 a. m. among officers and soldiers of the barracks Guardia de Honor, which was strongly supplied with modern weapons, including tanks, armored cars and different kinds of machine guns.

The commander of the guard, Gen. Federico Corado, was killed at the beginning and a 12-hour battle followed in the streets of this capital.

The revolutionists blew up the forts at San Jose and Matamoros, which dominated the city, and laid siege to the national palace.

REDS PLUNGE
INTO GERMANYBELGRADE SEIZED;
SOVIETS ON ROAD TO BUDAPEST

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE

London, Oct. 20. (AP)—Russian and Allied troops captured the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade and conquered Hungary's third city of Debrecen on the road to Budapest today as Berlin announced that other Soviet forces crashing through the smoking ruins of East Prussian villages had penetrated seven miles inside pre-war Germany.

A total of 17,147 Germans were killed or captured in a trap southeast of Belgrade, Moscow's daily bulletin announced.

Waves of Red army warriors punched new holes in Nazi homeland defenses on a 25-mile front opposite Lithuania, reaching the area of Abenrode (Stalluponen), a communications center seven miles inside the Junkers province, Berlin said.

Moscow was silent on the invasion of Germany. In Berlin broadcasts said the still-rolling offensive from the east had obliterated whole villages, was within 30 miles of the large junction of Interburg on the Kaunas-Konigsberg highway and was accompanied by other heavy Soviet thrusts from northern Poland on the southern side of the Junker province.

Crack Reserves Called

A new Soviet crossing of the frontier south of Ebenrode and Eydtkau, the latter a frontier village taken Thursday, resulted in Red army troops reaching the Rominensko Heide, Berlin said.

This is a 135-square-mile area of heath and forest land four to seven miles inside East Prussia. The Germans implied that the drive launched by the brilliant young Jewish tank expert—Gen. Ivan D. Cherniakhovsky, also was fanning out north of Eydtkau, indicating that armored spearheads were engaged in turning the flank defenses of T-34, already menaced by a third Russian army arrayed along the northern side of East Prussia in the Memel area.

The crack "Greater Germany" division has been thrown into the struggle, one Nazi broadcast said. Berlin also announced that units of Heinrich Himmler's home army of males between 16 and 60 already had been hurled in as reserves, and Col. Ernst Von Hammer, Nazi radio commentator, declared "The battle for East Prussia is heading for a climax."

FRANCE ZONED

Paris, France, Oct. 20 (AP)—In accordance with an Allied agreement tonight by decree divided France into an eastern "military zone" and a western "zone of the interior," with the latter coming under full French control.

Strike At Foe, Filipinos Told By MacArthur

Associated Press war correspondents reported today that planes from escort carriers had offered pin-point support, blowing up pillboxes and attacking motor convoys seeking to bring up reinforcements.

At Dapkin, who went ashore at Dulag, said today the men who hit the beach there advanced so swiftly that it was difficult to keep up with them and within two hours were on the outskirts of an airstrip. A Japanese counter-attack along a road leading toward Dulag was repulsed.

The airfield menaced, one of several in the area, is one mile from the town of Dulag.

Murkin Spencer, Associated Press war correspondent with the invaders, said the mammoth convoy, exceeding that which took the Allies to landings in North Africa, carried as many men as—perhaps more than—were put ashore on French Normandy on D Day. Prime Minister Churchill has disclosed that nearly 250,000 men were landed in Normandy on the first day.

Although casualties since the Leyte landings started yesterday have been kept low by constant coverage of the airforces and ships' guns, including the 16-inchers of battleships, front line dispatches made clear that the Japanese have mustered their best and heaviest forces sufficiently to put up bitter resistance in some sectors.

Defenses Softened

A Pearl Harbor communiqué of Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, detailing how carrier planes laid low the Japanese defenses on Leyte and nearby islands to help clear the way for landings, listed the destruction of 87 planes and the sinking of a large enemy cargo ship.

The bag of planes raised to more than 1,400 the number knocked out by carrier planes since they opened preparations for the Philippines invasion Oct. 9 with attacks on the Ryukyu with-in 200 miles of Japan.

Receding from the surprise landings, the Nipponese were reported shelling the invaders with mortars and artillery.

The Yanks, however, pushed into open country despite this resistance, said an American network pool broadcast from Leyte, and one column was "closing in on the city of Tacloban." That city is at the northern end of Leyte, above the point where one landing was made.

Revenge For Bataan

Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who went ashore with his forces Thursday (U. S. time) was quoted in a field dispatch as saying that there was little more than one Japanese division on Leyte.

It's position was hopeless, he told William B. Dickinson, representing the combined American press, American naval and air power, he explained, would make reinforcement impossible.

MacArthur said he was "particularly anxious to get at" that division because it was the outfit "that did the dirty work at Bataan."

There was no late word from the forces that landed farther south on Leyte near San Jose and the southern tip of the island.

While his assault forces streamed ashore along the eastern coast of Leyte island, MacArthur dramatically broadcast this appeal to the islanders:

"I have returned, x x x rally to me. Let the indomitable spirit of Bataan and Corregidor lead on. As the lines of battle roll forward to bring you within the zone of operation, rise and strike."

Speaking over the radio "voice of freedom," as reported by the Office of War Information, MacArthur informed the Filipinos that their president, Sergio Osmena, and members of his cabinet were at his side.

"The seat of your government is now therefore firmly reestablished on Philippine soil," he continued. "The hour of your redemption is here x x x I now call upon your supreme effort that the enemy may know from the temper of an aroused and outraged people within that he has a force to contend with no less violent than is the force committed from without."

MacArthur's appeal, made a few hours after he had landed with his assault forces after a terrific air and naval bombardment, came two and a half years after his memorable words, "I shall return," spoken upon reaching Australia from Corregidor.

Democratic Candidates Assail "Kelly Dynasty"

Roasting the Republican state administration for "running up and down the state building a Kelly dynasty" and accusing Republican legislators of changing election laws to confuse the voters, Democratic candidates at a rally last night in the city hall urged citizens to vote the straight Democratic ticket to insure the election of state officials who will be in sympathy with, and work in harmony with the policies of the "great leader" who "will be returned to the White House."

Claiming that Governor Harry Kelly has done nothing during the last two years, Edward J. Fry, Democratic candidate for that office, promised a "modern system of improved highways that will make all parts of the upper peninsula accessible to those who come here."

Plans have been formulated by the state candidates, Mr. Fry said, to foster and encourage manufacturing plants in the upper peninsula, to institute a program of selective cutting and replanting of our northern forests and to develop the recreation resources of this area.

Mr. Fry declared that upper peninsula forests have been given over to greedy interests who have been wringing the last penny of profit for themselves. He intimated that the state administration "should see that this vacation minded people are told of our recreational and vacation resources."

Seeks Federal Aid

Fry also served notice of his intent to "seek the direct aid of the federal government in developing electric power here," asserting that "for much too long the manufacture of power has been monopolized by interests that have looked only to their personal welfare."

"By bringing the federal government in to undertake development of power," Fry said, "we will break the hold that the private monopolists now have."

Thurman B. Doyle, Menominee, candidate for attorney general, made a political martyr of Escanaba's H. J. Rushton, claiming that Governor Kelly, "the little Hitler, the hatchet man," in building his "political dynasty" had stuck a dagger into Rushton's back. Rushton, Mr. Doyle said, is an outstanding citizen and is honest and because of that fact "he was purged from the Republican party."

The Daily Press, and particularly J. P. Norton, was severely criticized by Doyle for its editorial expressions in connection with the Rushton affair.

Representing Republican presidential candidate Dewey as "the fan dancer from Broadway," Doyle covered Dewey's qualifications for office by saying that his "only experience is the prosecution of a few criminal cases which his assistants really prosecuted."

After reminding his audience to vote men into state offices who will work in harmony with "the man whom we are sure will be returned to the White House" Doyle returned to his attack of the state administration.

Raps Soldier Ballot Law. Republican leaders, claimed Doyle, fear the coming election, and for the reason city clerks in certain lower Michigan cities were "forced" to put on extra help to take care of the demand of citizens who wished to register for the coming election.

The Michigan soldier vote law was classified by the speaker as "one of the most fraudulent pieces of legislation ever placed on the statutes." Doyle stated that four of the first eight soldier ballots received recently were declared voided because of the "Kelly Joker" in the law.

The most enthusiastic reaction of the citizens, who practically filled the council chambers, was in response to the constructive appeal for support for Minnie M. Schwinger, candidate for state treasurer, the first woman to be nominated in Michigan by a major party for a state office.

Due to the fact that millions of men are in the armed forces, approximately 60 per cent of the votes in the coming election will be cast by women, Mrs. Schwinger said, consequently women will have an important voice in naming the president and the men who will work with him.

Woman's Viewpoint Valuable

Making a plea to every woman to exercise her right of franchise, the candidate for state treasurer asserted that politics is of vital concern in every home. Postwar problems of child delinquency, returning veterans and maintenance of production are matters which will reach into every home, and for that reason she believes a woman's viewpoint will be valuable in solving those problems.

Mrs. Schwinger advised her listeners that there is more to the treasurer's job than issuing checks. She stated her belief that the officer in that department can influence the spending of money and help to avoid waste, a task which she believes a woman should be valuable.

Arthur A. Kosciuszko, candidate for secretary of state, explained that in this election voters will receive two ballots, a presidential ballot, and another containing the names of all other candidates. He accused the Republican administration of changing the voting setup by statute in order to make voting more difficult and confusing to the voters.

Professing inability to understand why any good Democrat "would want to split his ballot and vote for a man of another party," Kosciuszko advised the voters to vote a straight ticket by putting their mark in the circle under the Democratic symbol, thereby making sure of their vote.

Torval Strom, acting as chairman of the meeting, introduced county Democratic candidates for office, and appealed for support for those men at the polls.

The meeting was opened with a motion picture entitled "Let's We Forget" which was designed to show how previous Republican administrations had nearly ruined the country and how, under Democratic leadership, which came "just in time," the country is being saved.

The name, Venezuela, means "Little Venice," and was given to the South American country by Amerigo Vesputi because the natives built their homes on stilts in Lake Maracaibo.

TOURIST TRADE FUTURE BRIGHT Kelly Outlines Program To Boost Michigan's Natural Assets

Bay City, Mich., Oct. 20 (AP)—Governor Kelly, predicting Michigan's tourist industry can be doubled, if not tripled, after the war, declared tonight the entire state will benefit economically from governmental steps to stimulate that business.

In a campaign address prepared for delivery at a rally here, Kelly said he proposed the following to provide such stimulus: Early development of the Porcupine Mountain "forest museum."

Adequate stocking of lakes and streams with fish.

A properly directed program of advertising the state to overcome the competition of other tourist states.

Correlation of local and state health programs for the protection of residents and non-residents alike.

Completion of a modern highway program.

Provision for long-range financing of resort facilities.

State assistance in developing higher resort standards.

"Not only can the state do these things," Kelly said, "it will do them. As a guarantee I offer you a record of state encouragement and assistance to the tourist and resort industry during the last two years which no previous administration can equal."

WILL RESUME WORK

Menominee — Resumption of construction work on the new Menominee county airport, located at the West Menominee city limits adjoining Park avenue, is slated for next spring, U. S. Senator Homer Ferguson advised the Menominee Chamber of Commerce.

At the Chamber's request, Ferguson made an inquiry at the Washington office of the Civil Aeronautics Administration as to the status of the local airport, for whose completion congress last winter appropriated $130,918.

The federal and local governments already have about $120,000 invested in the project, on which work was suspended following the closing of WPA. The project is about half completed.

an object lesson they would never forget.

There was no grand rush to capture Aachen after the surrender ultimatum was ignored and our artillery and bombers lashed at the city in a fury of explosions. The doughboys went about the job slowly and methodically.

Toasts to Victory

Even yet civilians trudge through the wreckage to the safety of a little colony which has been established for refugees. They come from basements and dank shelters and holes in the ground like a procession of lost souls, pushing their little carts filled with a few belongings. Here was defeated Germany on parade.

Tonight the men who captured Aachen received the plaudits of their commanding general, who praised them for a great job. The ceremony took place in an old building battered by bullets and shells, and the men were drunk from three bottles of champagne dug up from some German store.

While the troops inside Aachen were slowly squeezing the garrison to death, other Yank forces outside the city on the north and northeast did a job of at least equal and probably greater military importance in beating off five full-scale Nazi counter-attacks. Altogether, two German units have been effectively written off as offensive threats.

No estimate is possible of the number of German civilian casualties in Aachen. Our ultimatum gave them ample warning and time to get out, but in one instance 16 wounded German civilians were found to 91 wounded German soldiers.

The Coast Guard cutter Lincoln was the first U. S. ship in Alaskan waters after the territory was purchased.

Lansing—Although the conservation department will offer $4,000-odd acres of Upper Peninsula lands at auction late this month and next, it emphasizes again that returning veterans should not attempt to establish themselves as farmers or stockmen on such soils.

In fact, cheap land in northern counties that will provide a living for returning veterans is practically non-existent, the department warns.

Average price paid for tax-reverted lands offered at auction by the department in 1944 has been around $4. The department sells only such lands as do not fit into its land-use programs—state forests, game areas, and the like.

WALKING IN UNDERWEAR

Houghton—In the frosty hours early this morning a man was seen walking on M-26 near Lake Roland, clothed only in his underwear and without shoes or stockings. The incident was reported to the sheriff's office and Deputy Sheriff Rueben Rowe went to the scene immediately to investigate.

After making inquiries, Deputy Rowe learned that the man was seen standing in water up to his neck in the Sleepy river, but later was seen walking south, dripping wet and shivering. He was located by the deputy sheriff in a shack about a half mile south of Lake Roland, still wet and shivering from the cold.

He was taken to the warmth of the county jail, where it was learned his name was Louis Klud, unmarried, who came to Houghton county only a few days ago from Ironwood, where he had been working in the woods.

Wife Gets Letters From Pfc. Ingersoll

Although her husband, Pfc. Clarence Ingersoll, 22, was reported as missing in action in France since Sept. 18, his wife has received letters written by him in France after that date.

Mrs. Ingersoll, the former Marjorie Suino, daughter of Mrs. Kenneth Mallman, said yesterday that she has received letters from her husband dated October 3 and 4, and yesterday received other letters dated October 5 and 6.

The only possible assumption would be that Pfc. Ingersoll has become separated from his company and therefore was reported as missing, as occasionally happens in a fast-moving mechanized war. Upon his return to his unit he would be taken off the missing classification.

SCOUT LEADER TALKS TO PTA

Adults Must Blaze Trail For Youth, Bradford Declares

"It is up to adults to blaze a trail for our youth to follow," advised S. N. Bradford, district Scout executive of Red Buck District at the Lakeside Central P. T. A. meeting at Central school on Thursday evening.

As adults we have had the experience and are capable of good guidance to youth, said Mr. Bradford, and set forth four rules why Scouting does not benefit all children. First—Parents do not know what Scouting is about. Second—They do not care. Third—We do not have enough competent leaders. Fourth—We do not have the sponsors to back this movement.

Mr. Bradford praised the P. T. A. as second to the churches behind the Boy Scout movement.

Miss McClure, traveling Scout executive of the upper peninsula, spoke on behalf of Girl Scouting, and said parents and teachers are interested in "keeping children off the street," and Scouting comes in where the home and school lets off. She emphasized the fact that Scouting should be a community affair, but this can be accomplished only when sufficient number of people are willing to act as leaders, troop mothers, and council members.

Boy Scouts of Troop 60, with Ted Henschell as counselor, gave a demonstration of signaling, knot tying, as well as first aid bandaging.

Mrs. Earl LeBrasseur, Girl Scout leader, explained Timber Trail and day camping program, introducing Miss Dorothy Watson, assistant water front director at Timber Trail, who has worked at a number of camps during the past three years, and praised Timber Trail as one of the best camps in the country.

Aurora Peterson, speaking from camper's viewpoint, said that the contact made with so many other girls from other states added interest to the camp, and stated that the camping experiences helped the girls to shoulder responsibilities which

Close Presidential Vote Expected in Washington

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Seattle, Wash.—Here in the northwest corner of America you can get from equally competent observers diametrically opposed opinions as to how this state, with its eight electoral votes, will go in the November election.

My own guess, based on talks with a number of people of varying political beliefs, is that it will go for President Roosevelt, but by a margin very much smaller than the majority of 140,000 which the State of Washington gave him four years ago. That, however, is no more than a guess.

Frederick E. Baker, a Willkie Republican who is working hard for the Dewey-Bricker ticket, says the state is for Roosevelt as of this date. On the basis of private polls, he divided the vote, on October 10, as follows: Roosevelt 334,396, Dewey 389,872.

May Go Either Way
But Baker, who was Willkie's candidate for Republican National Chairman at the feuding session of the national committee in St. Louis last year, adds that the trend which has been at work for the past three months is continuing in Dewey's favor, and that by November 7 the Republican candidate will have a majority of 10,000.

Other Republicans believe it could go either way by a majority of 10,000. And if the margin is that close, they add, in a state which went so overwhelmingly for FDR in 1940, then it means Dewey's election is almost a certainty.

You are made aware here, more than anywhere else I've been thus far, of the uncertainty in this strange election year. In 1936 and again in '40, there was little or no doubt about the outcome a month before the voters they encounter as they grow older. Lois Williams was the representative from the Brownies, and told about her experiences at Brownie camp this summer which was held at the Trailer Park.

The Girl Scouts who attended Timber Trail camp this summer sang three camp songs, "Timber Trail," "Pioneer Song" and "Peace."

The city officials were guests at this meeting, and Mr. Manson expressed the desire to co-operate with the P. T. A. in every way possible to carry out their program.

The third and fourth grade of Lakeside school had the largest percentage of parents present at this meeting, and will receive the attendance banner, to be displayed in their school room, for one month, and then passed on to the room having the largest attendance in November.

Mrs. George Morton gave a brief resume of the program heard at the Parent Institute in Escanaba. This was the first Parent Education Institute in the upper peninsula, and over 300 parents and teachers were registered.

Mrs. Chase reminded the parents of the Halloween party that is being planned in the school for the children this year, as well as the fat salvage drive in the near future.

Hostesses for this meeting were the third and fourth grade mothers of Central school, with Mrs. Wm. Ballor, Mrs. Lawrence Jenerau, Mrs. Lester Richards and Mrs. Albert Swanson acting as co-chairmen.

The Coast Guard has maintained law and order along Alaskan coasts since the acquisition of that territory.

Childs

were to go to the polls. That is not true this time.

First, how many of the newcomers in the state will vote? Registration may or may not be an answer. It appears that in the Seattle area, with its shipyards and airplane plants, the job of registering new voters has been done rather well.

In a special registration drive before the primary, 25,000 new names were added to the voting lists. Recently, in a concentrated effort over several days, another 25,000 were added, and it is believed the total will be 75,000 before election day. Of course, our state in the rural areas there is also a registration drive, which is presumably adding Republican voters to the polling lists.

Many Will Not Vote
There are those who believe that many industrial workers will not bother to go to the polls on election day, even though they may have been officially registered under the spur of the registration drive. Wayne Morse, Republican candidate for the Senate in Oregon, predicts that not more than 25 per cent of the new industrial workers in the northwest will mark that X opposite the donkey or the elephant.

The theory is that they're prosperous and that, having no quarrel, they have no one to vote against. They would have to give up half a day's work to go and vote, and it conceivably will not seem that important. Washington has a strict law forbidding electioneering on election day, and this has been interpreted to include the business, common elsewhere, of rounding up voters and driving them to the polls.

Another factor which contributes to the uncertainty in this state is the degree of influence exercised by Republican Governor Arthur B. Langlie. Following a succession of incompetents, Langlie has given the state a sound administration. While there has been nothing spectacular or showy about Langlie's administration, he has gained wide popularity.

In the Dewey-Brownell strategy it is the attraction of men like Langlie, running for re-election, that is counted on to pull the National ticket through. Langlie's opponent, Senator Mon C. Wallgren, also has a popular following in the state.

As I say, you get predictions diametrically opposed. An impartial observer, long familiar with the state's politics, predicted Washington would go for FDR by a majority of 35,000 to 100,000. The smart betting money hasn't yet come out of hiding. That may mean this state still is in the doubtful category.

PRICE CEILING AFFECTS WAGE

WLB Issues Directive On Pay Increases For Woods Workers

Ishpeming.—Any wage increases, which finally may be directed by the National War Labor Board for woods and sawmill workers in the Upper Peninsula shall be effective only after final action of the OPA on price ceiling relief for the operator, an interim directive of the regional War Labor Board, just issued, provides.

It is the first report on hearings, held June 15, 16, and 17 in the Mather Inn, bearing on the request of the International Woodworkers of America, CIO affiliate, for increases in wages. The union requested the minimum wage in the woods be raised from 57 1-2 cents an hour to 95c and in sawmill operations, from 62 1/2 cents to 95 cents an hour.

Panel Personnel
The panel appointed to hear the case consisted of Louis Harrington, Detroit, attorney representing the public; Clyde A. Saunders, Sault Ste. Marie, representing industry, and Daniel Gallagher, Detroit, representing labor.

The panel made certain recommendations, all of which were accepted by the regional War Labor Board in its interim directive. They are:

That Swante Goodell, Chassel, Victor Ahonen, Ironwood; Lawrence Peterson and Son, Ironwood, and James Peterson and Sons, Hurley, Wis., be eliminated from the cases, because they had contracts with wage provisions and restrictions as to when the wage question could be reopened.

That any wage increases finally directed in these cases shall be retroactive to the date of the final directive order of the regional War Labor Board.

That any such wage increases shall be made effective only after final action of the Office of Price Administration on price relief.

Provides Period for Petition
The directive provides for a 15-day period during which petition may be made to the national War Labor Board to set aside the provisions of the paper.

The panel's interim report, which sets the groundwork for the final report, shortly to be announced, pointed out that "it appeared at the outset that the decision in this case will affect the entire lumber industry in Michigan and Wisconsin and possibly, other mid-western states."

Make Substitutes Available

IN THESE days when housewives of America are able to obtain butter only in small dabs or not at all, the battle that has been waged for years and still continues—by the dairy interests, to prevent competition from wholesome butter substitutes, becomes both ridiculous and a hardship on many families in the nation.

The Upper Peninsula has already been established as an important dairy center and milk checks are an important part of the cash income of farmers of this section, but little defense will be found in this area for a program that is affecting the table menus of millions of families in America, in this emergency period.

Through the efforts of the dairy interests there was enacted a federal law many years ago, against the sale of colored butter substitutes without the payment of the exorbitant penalty of ten cents per pound. Against this unjustifiable statute, butter substitute manufacturers are allowed only to place of packet of coloring matter in each package of their product and the housewife is forced to do her own coloring in her own kitchen.

No one has ever claimed that most margarine is not wholesome and healthful and in these days when real butter is almost unobtainable the free use of substitutes is justified and should be permitted.

There is before Congress a bill designed to make this valuable food easily available in colored form to all who, for reasons of economy, taste or inability to buy real butter, choose to serve it on their tables.

When normal economic conditions are restored, the dairy interests have little to fear of competition from butter substitutes. Most families in America will buy real butter, in preference to any substitute, when they can get it.

The present bill before congress should be adopted, no matter who loudly selfish dairy interests may squeal at an only imaginary foe.

MacArthur Returns

GENERAL MACARTHUR made good on a pledge he gave two and a half years ago when he landed with American invasion troops on Leyte Island and set up the new army headquarters in the Philippines.

The Japanese knew that an attack upon the Philippines was imminent, but they apparently did not guess where the actual landings would be made for they were able to offer only slight resistance to the invaders. As a result, our forces seized the first island in the Philippines archipelago with little loss of either men or equipment.

General MacArthur has frequently proclaimed his intentions to retake the Philippines. A real tip-off was also given not long ago when Col. Carlos Romulo, Philippines commissioner in Washington, who spoke in Escanaba about a year ago, and other Filipino officials hurriedly left this country to be in on the invasion.

Apparently, our military leaders were not worrying whether the Japanese knew the big offensive was under way. It is comforting evidence that we are going after the Japs loaded to the hilt, prepared for any resistance they are able to muster. We are no longer concerned about Japan's highly touted navy and her fanatical soldiers and flyers, for we are able to meet the enemy on far better than even terms.

Holds Much Promise

MUCH interest was displayed at the recent American merchant marine convention in New York city in the package freighter idea described by Leatham D. Smith, well known Sturgeon Bay ship-builder.

The newly-designed package freight vessel will discharge about 660 of its special containers and load an equal number in about 16 hours. Smith estimates that this new method of handling freight will save ship operators $1 per ton at both loading and discharging terminals.

The use of special containers for handling freight in ships is not entirely a new idea, for some of the railroads have been using them the past few years. But if it can be adapted to water shipping as Mr. Smith appears to be confident it can be it probably will stimulate a revival of package freighter traffic on the Great Lakes.

In that event, Escanaba and other communities, who have been hindered somewhat by transportation disadvantages in their efforts to attract new industries, would find their dockage facilities to be of great value.

Father of RFD

DEATH of John Meloy Stahl, 84, writer on agriculture and economics, in Asheville, N. C., is of especial note because he is credited with being "the father of rural free delivery."

Stahl first advocated the establishment of the RFD to provide better mail service to rural residents as early as 1879, but his dreams did not come true until 1896. Later, he took up the cudgel for the parcel post system. His interest in better mail service was recognized by Presidents Benjamin Harrison and Woodrow Wilson, who offered him cabinet appointments which he declined.

Rural free delivery was a boon to the residents of isolated rural communities, and it has grown until now there are about 45,000 routes, serving millions of families. Early deliveries were made by horse and buggy, but now with the use of the automobile routes have been greatly expanded so that one carrier delivers mail to several times the number of patrons accommodated in the early years.

Rural free delivery, like the many other social developments that have followed, has made life on the farm more pleasant for millions of people.

MAKING THEIR BID
(Iron Mountain News)

The Democratic candidates for state office, headed by Mr. Fry, seeking the principal bid for the upper peninsula vote this week. How they will fare is one of the numerous questions the election will have to answer. The probability is they will fare much as the candidates for national office fare. It may be argued that the Republican candidates for state office are more likely to carry the state decisively than is Governor Dewey. For none is likely to hold that any of the candidates on the Democratic state ticket are stronger in the state than the President.

But, on the other hand, PAC-CIO, in which the Democratic candidates find their principal hope of winning the state, is greatly interested in the success of the state ticket. They would like to have a governor responsive to their influence only less than they would like to establish easy entry at the White House, and place representatives to their liking in the House. In consequence, as far as they deem it expedient to go with it, they are seeking to get the voters who listen to their advice to vote straight Democratic tickets. It need not be surprising if there is more than the usual amount of straight voting, and if the spread between the President and the candidates for state office is less than it has been in previous years.

The election is now less than three weeks off. But interest in it continues to be subordinated to interest in the war. The candidates for President can command countrywide audiences, but lesser figures in the political arena have to be content with much less attention than they would receive in a year when the country was at peace.

THE AAF EXPLAINS

(Detroit Free Press)

When the Army Air Forces released its recent report on casualties and plane losses, amazement was general that 2,900 more planes had been lost in this country than in combat. The figures were 17,500 here, 14,600 overseas action.

A supplementary report now explains the mystery.

There were 11,000 wrecks in training and in home flights; 4,000 planes were worn out and 2,500 were no longer fit to be flown. But this breakdown has to be fitted into the immensity of the Air Forces training programs in order to be understandable.

In early three years of war, the Air Forces domestic flying hours totaled 76,786,000, or 4,342 hours flown "for each airplane lost or worn out"—4,342 hours is about 172 24-hour days. In mileage, for each unit lost or worn out, the equivalent of 26 trips around the world was flown. For each wreck, there has been the equivalent of 40 global trips.

Also the AAF training fatal-accident rate has been lowered to one for every 2,700,000 miles flown—100 trips around the earth.

The AAF summarizes: "This means that, in the frankly dangerous business of preparing young men to fly very hot combat planes," the fatality rate is down to two in 100. Moreover, 95 finish their preparation period "without so much as a sprained ankle or a bump on the head."

The supplementary statement performs a needed service. It makes clearer what was unclear. The explanation reveals a much more creditable situation than was apparent on the basis of the first report.

Packs of paper pack a real punch in the war effort. Save it—and turn it in!

Some people are taking that old remedy for their cold—others are saving it for fear 'twill be short at Christmas.

Three times last year's total of Christmas packages for overseas already have been turned over to the port of embarkation. The more the merrier Christmas.

Right after election some people are going to wake up and find out they're not going to sleep in a political berth.

The coal shortage indicates we will shake well before using.

Take My Word For it . . . Frank Coiby

SURPRISE WORD OF THE WEEK

The word BOMBARDIER, a French loan-word, was little used in America prior to 1940. But it has become one of the most important words in the vocabulary of aviation.

Originally, in French, bombardier had the meaning, "Artillerie qui lance des bombes" (artilleryman who throws the bombs). The French pronunciation is: bah(n)-bar-DYAY.

The Round Table

BY RAYMOND MOLEY

Adolph A. Berle, Jr., Assistant Secretary of State, makes a poor job of answering Governor Dewey's attack on him. His letter to the President centers on Mr. Dewey's quotation from Mr. Berle's statement, which read:

"Over a period of years, the Government will come to own most of the productive plants of the United States." Mr. Dewey's comment on this was:

"That means, of course, a system where Government would tell each of us where we could work, at what, and for how much. Now, I do not know whether my opponent calls that system Communism or National Socialism, or Fascism. He can take it any way he likes it."

And now, no doubt because he was told to do so by the White House, Mr. Berle comes back with a statement which is as specious as his original statement made to the Temporary National Economic Committee was frank. Like all New Dealers, he makes the statement that private enterprise can provide more employment for men and money. But—and this is the key word—private enterprise is not doing the job.

In another place in the Berle TNEC memorandum, he says, "If it be true, as apparently it is, that the private capital markets are not providing the necessary flow of capital towards actual construction of tangible economic wealth, and in place of it, the Government is undertaking to do the job, we have to face certain definite effects."

These "definite effects," as Berle describes them, are that "the danger of a breakdown in the government credit" can be "discounted." Then he says that Government debt creates wealth and that private credit cannot create enough wealth. Then comes the whole passage from which Mr. Dewey quoted:

"Briefly, the Government will have to enter into the direct financing of activities now supposed to be private; and a continuance of that direct financing must be inevitably that the Government ultimately will control and own those activities. But differently, if the Government undertakes to create wealth by using its own credit at the rate of four billion or so a year, and if its work is well done, the Government will be acquiring direct productive mechanisms at the rate of four billions' worth a year, or thereabouts. Over a period of years, the Government will gradually come to own most of the productive plants of the United States."

I am quite familiar with the Berle memorandum in question. It was presented in 1939, and I wrote a reply calling it "economic totalitarianism." I knew Mr. Berle himself in the early days of the New Deal. He was then completely free with positive assertions that the original New Deal would not work and that a vastly more radical program would be necessary. He made clear that such a program would end in virtual collectivism. The last time I heard him make that statement was something over four years before 1939. He is fooling none of those who know him with his letter of protest.

The most important admission in his TNEC memorandum, however, substantiates Mr. Dewey's repeated charge that the New Deal had failed to provide recovery and jobs. Mr. Berle's assertion that the New Deal had failed to provide recovery in six years is in clear, incontrovertible type.

And Mr. Roosevelt cannot repudiate Mr. Berle. He has kept him at his right hand for many years. He is still there, presumably ready with his plans to carve up the remains of free enterprise after the war, to provide the meat for a collectivist picnic.

But the surprise is that, in America, the "r" of the second syllable is seldom if ever pronounced. Indeed, so widespread is "bom-buh-DEER" that the word is frequently spelled "bombadier."

All dictionaries pronounce the second syllable as "bah," thus: bom-bah-DEER.

It's Hard to Believe

News item: . . . to punish Hitler and his cohorts, Goebbels, Goering, and Himmler.

The word cohort does not mean "a colleague, a follower, a companion." Originally, a cohort was one of the ten military divisions making up a legion. Hence, by extension, cohort came to designate any military group or band.

Cohort is from the French cohorte, from the Latin cohors, originally, "an enclosure for cattle," and later, "a troop or throng."

Cohort had no sooner entered English than it became corrupted to cohort, meaning "to keep company; to band together." It survives today in the provincialism "in cahoots with," meaning, "in collusion with, toward a common aim."

And by a strange quirk, the corruption "cahoots" has brought about the corruption in meaning of the word cohort, as noted at the beginning of this article. Yes, English is like that.

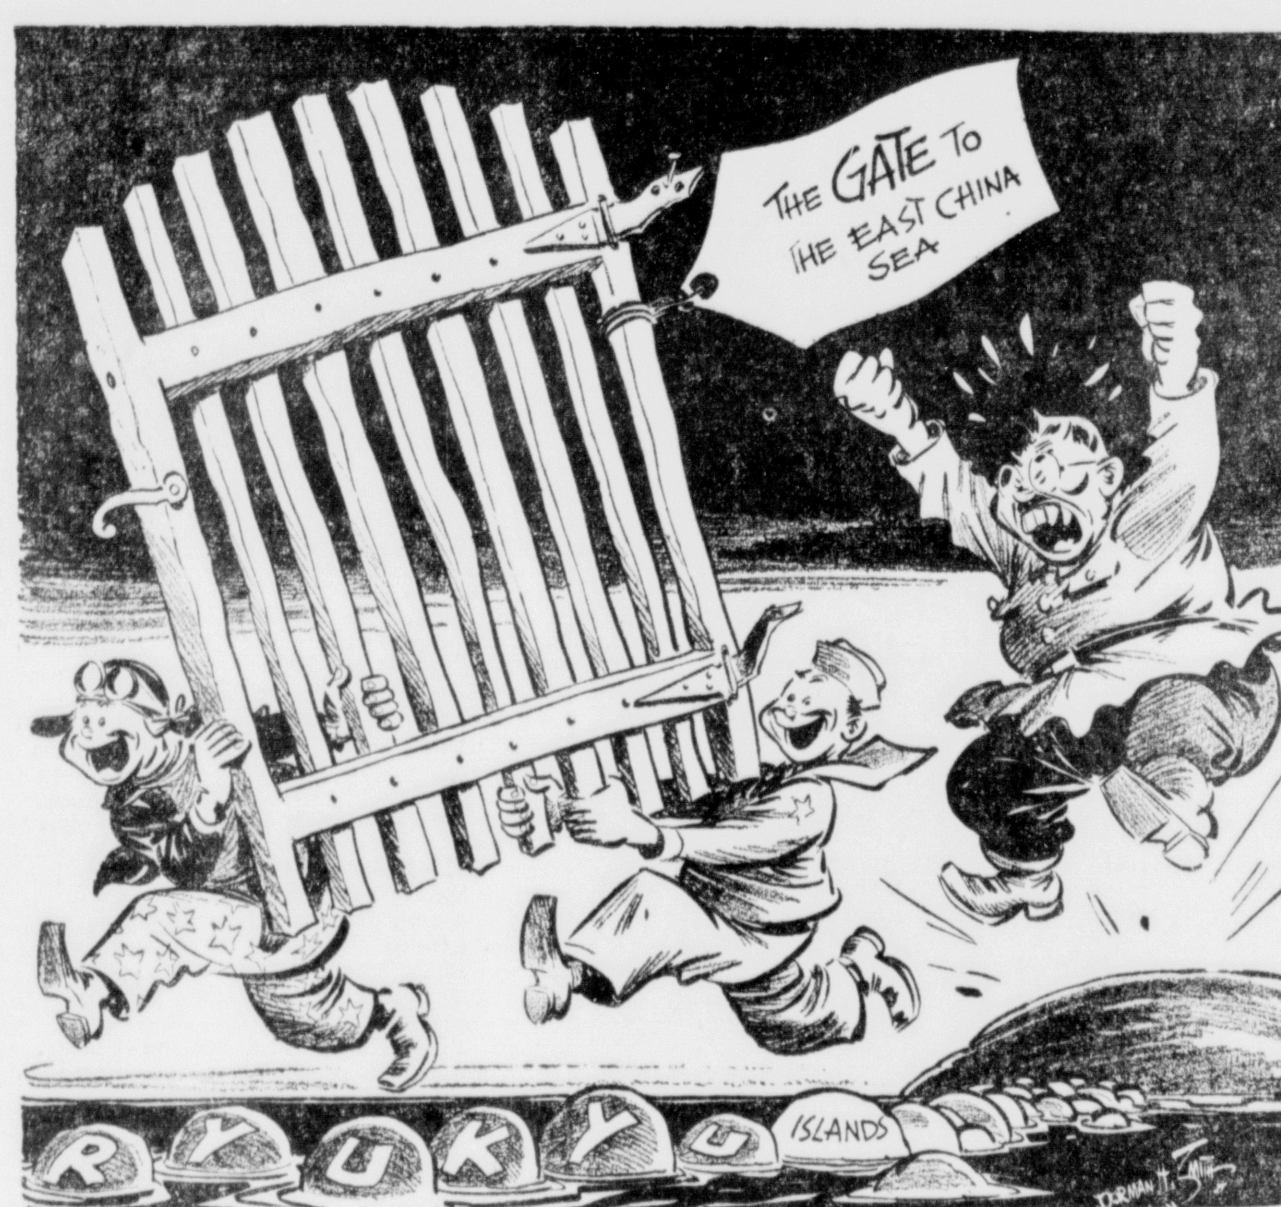

DRIANT, fort guarding the city of Metz. Caution. Do not rhyme with "giant." The second syllable is "ah" nasalized. The "i" is silent. Say: drice-ah(N).

BALIPAPAN, oil center of southeast Borneo. Accent the first and third syllables. Say: BAH-leck-PAH-pahn.

KWELIN, former American airbase in Kwangsi province. Note. For an undisclosed reason, "kw," in Chinese place names, has the sound of "gw." Kwelin, therefore, is pronounced: gwai-lin; and Kwangsi is pronounced: gwahn-see.

To further complicate matters, "k" when followed by "i" as in Kiangsai, undergoes another Jekyll-Hyde transformation and takes the sound of "j." Kiangsai, then, is pronounced: jahng-see.

Getting a Head Start on Their Hallowe'en Pranks

Good Morning! INTO THE PAST

—By The Bugler

WE REGRET — In the thousands of Delta county homes the arrival of a Western Union Telegraph company messenger is the signal for heart-aching dread until the envelope is opened and the message is read. For there are nearly 4,000 men and women from Delta county in the armed forces of the United States, and it is safe to assume that more than half of this total are on overseas duty.

To those who have sons, husbands or brothers in service in battle areas, the Western Union messenger (it's a girl now—the boys are in service, too) is a person they would prefer never to see. For there is always the feeling that this message may be one that begins, "Deeply regret to inform you—"

Dunathan

These messages will be coming to Delta county with increasing frequency now that the great offensive is on within Germany, and our forces are bringing the war closer to Japan's homeland.

So far there have been 42 men from Delta county killed in action, 10 killed in non-combat action, and four who died in service. Besides this hundreds have been wounded. There are 25 men missing in action from Delta county, and 16 are known prisoners of war. In all of these cases the War Department, through Western Union, notified the nearest of kin by telegram. Small wonder then, that the messenger with the yellow envelope is received with dread in these war days.

SYMPATHY—Yet every effort is made to make the delivery of casualty messages sympathetic, speedy and careful.

The War Department has recently released information concerning the manner in which casualty messages are delivered. John Gherna, manager of the local Western Union office, passes this along for column material, since the Bugler has mentioned before how the local office handled such messages.

Delivery of the casualty message to a soldier's family informing them of his death, injury or illness in an overseas theater, or that he is missing in action or a prisoner of war, is handled with all the speed, care and human understanding possible.

BEFORE 10 P. M.—As the casualty lists increase, the number of such messages for delivery increases proportionately. Under War Department regulations, casualty messages must be delivered in person within the hours of 7 a. m. and 10 p. m., with complete regard at all times for the feelings of the person opening the familiar yellow envelope.

NO TELEPHONE—The regulations further provide that all casualty messages must be delivered by messenger and not by telephone.

The only exception to this is made in the case of persons who are not at home when the messenger calls and when a note is left advising them to call Western Union. If the person to whom the message is addressed insists that the message be relayed by telephone, Western Union is then permitted to comply.

NO ASSISTANTS—Under no circumstances are arrangements permitted whereby civic, veterans, church, Red Cross or other organizations' representatives may accompany the messenger delivering a casualty telegram.

Obviously, this does not prohibit close friends and relatives of the family from giving whatever sympathy and consolation they may to the family after the message has been delivered.)

THEY WILL HELP—Messengers are instructed to "act naturally" and not to divulge the nature of the message. They are cautioned to be always on the alert to the reaction of the person receiving the message. Where there are signs of fainting or hysteria, the messenger is instructed to inquire whether they may be of assistance by calling a friend or a neighbor to assist the bereaved person.

Even though wives and mothers often steel themselves against the possible receipt of bad news when they know their loved ones are in a combat zone, the receipt of the message is always a shock. For this reason Western Union messengers are instructed to deliver casualty messages to male members of the family whenever possible.

IF YOU MOVE—Western Union is frequently confronted with the difficulty of locating the proper person for whom the telegram is intended. Often people move to new locations and fail to notify the Adjutant General of their new address, which makes the task of delivering the message doubly difficult.

Emergency addressees who move should notify The Adjutant General. War Department, Washington 25, D. C., of changes of address which occurs following the departure of the soldier for an overseas destination.

NOT ALL BAD—Not all casualty messages contain bad news, the War Department reminds relatives of servicemen. Frequently a man who has been reported as missing in action later returns to his unit.

In fact, in mobile warfare, large numbers of men are temporarily reported missing from their units but later rejoin their organizations. In every case, their emergency addressees are promptly notified. In the case of the Air Forces a high percentage of men originally listed as missing in action later are reported to be prisoners of war.

—Clint Dunathan.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

(Lt. Col. Robert S. Allen now on active service with the Army)

Washington — Tom Dewey finally developed the FDR knack of relaxing while he campaigns. He has now travelled close to 8,000 miles to make six speeches, finds he can do a lot of quiet thinking on trains, prefers to make a speech, then get back to Albany for important strategy talks.

Dewey's special car on the campaign train is named the "David Livingstone." He sleeps soundly in a large compartment, Mrs. Dewey occupying a room adjacent. En route to make his St. Louis speech, however, Dewey did not sleep so soundly. Feeling a piece of metal under his pillow, he turned on the lights, found some wag had pinned an FDR button under it.

The Dewey routine on his special train seldom varies. He rises at 8:30 A. M., eats exactly the same kind of breakfast—fruit juice, toast and coffee, as at Albany. Mrs. Dewey, garrulous, boyish-looking Paul Lockwood and Elliot Bell, State Superintendent of Banks and key ghost-writing aid to the Governor, usually join him.

Meals are prepared by a special chef in the private car, are served at a neat, teakwood table seating four persons, which can be enlarged to hold at least eight diners. Dewey's own waiter accompanies him.

Dewey hates fish, eats red meat only once a week, enjoying fowl and vegetables the rest of the time. He is a good eater, licks his plate clean, does no drinking while out campaigning. Other times, he enjoys a highball or two before and after dinner, smokes cigarettes through a long FDR like, silver-finished holder.

—LIKES HIS POPCORN—

After dinner, the Dewey chef reaches up to a shelf, pulls down a box of unpopped corn, pops it fresh over a charcoal burner. All evening while working Dewey munches popcorn, ordering up a new warm batch now and then, consumes about a box every three days, likes it dipped heavily in butter—although he worries about his weight. For variety, Dewey munches potato chips, sips at ginger ale or mineral water.

Inside the Dewey car, RCA has loaded a magnificent amplifying set, radio and listening equipment. Through these, Dewey tunes in on newscasts, likes to listen to good music en route. He also has a telephone in his car, which is connected at lengthy stops, in order to contact GOP headquarters in Albany or New York City.

Dewey still makes few back-platform speeches, even if crowds congregate in the rear of his car. When he does speak, two huge amplifiers mounted over the back end of the platform carry his words to the crowd. Dewey used to survey his audience, always started by saying: "Doesn't look like there's a New Dealer in the crowd." But he has stopped this after being booed by Roosevelt supporters on several occasions.

Only two of the nine cars on the Dewey train are paid for by the Republican National Committee. The other nine carry about 70 correspondents from all over the country, with an occasional foreign correspondent anxious to tell the folks overseas what Dewey looks and sounds like. They pay their own way, as they also do with Roosevelt.

—AVOIDS STATION CROWDS—

Dewey is still anxious to avoid the appearance of barnstorming, as did Landon and Willkie. Therefore cuts down on impromptu talks, keeps them at a minimum. To help do this, Dewey has ordered train routes kept secret, hopes to keep station crowds down. However, occasionally crowds yell so loudly the Governor and Mrs. Dewey go out, take a bow. At one recent stop the crowd numbered several thousand. However, Dewey, not yet dressed, wouldn't make an appearance. In 1940, Willkie slung a bathrobe over his shoulders, appeared several times hair tousled, waving gaily to crowds regardless of their size, despite warnings of his physician against early morning stops.

Unlike the Willkie train, which was hectic, often chaotic, the Dewey train runs like a well geared machine. Newsmen do no tearing of their hair worrying over advance copies of speeches. Releases are ready at least six hours before delivery time. Dewey sticks very closely to the prepared text, practices his speeches several times for the benefit of his campaign cabinet before each appearance.

—CAMPAIGN TRAIN SONG—

The Dewey campaign train has its own theme song, "The Saga of E. A. Wells," sung to the tune of the immortal railroad song, "Casey Jones." E. A. Wells was the engineer of the Dewey special during the wreck which occurred on the Governor's West Coast speaking tour.

Correspondents aboard Dewey train who have rebelled at wearing huge buttons, which make them look like members of the Republican National Committee, now have a way of getting even . . .

In small towns, spectators seeing the buttons rush up to newsmen, ask how the campaign is going, are dismayed when reporters who look like GOP officials, say it looks "very bad, very tough for our man up there," pointing to Dewey . . .

Dewey holds no press conferences in Albany any more, does not see the press from week to week . . . Since the campaign picked up speed, Dewey rarely even appears at the executive chambers, does all his work at the ugly, hulking executive mansion in Albany . . . No list of callers is given out daily as by the White House. Result is, few know who Dewey sees or what they talked about.

Cider is back at work—so it will be hard to sell.

SWEDISH FILM SHOWN TONIGHT

Life In Modern Sweden
To Be Portrayed By Russell Wright

"Swedish Interlude," a documentary film of everyday life in modern Sweden, will be presented at 8:15 o'clock this evening at W. W. Oliver Memorial Auditorium in Escanaba Junior high school by Russell Wright under sponsorship of Escanaba North Star Lodge and the Gladstone Swedish Club.

The moving picture is in color, and Wright's account of his three years experience in Sweden while the picture was being made provide interesting and background on Sweden today.

The color motion picture tells the story of life in Sweden, including events after World War II started. It is the last documentary film to be brought out of Sweden through the blockade. For the past thirteen years, Wright has spent much of his time traveling throughout the world as a reporter and photographer. He has served Universal Newsreel, Associated Press, London Daily Telegraph, Look Magazine, European Picture Service and other news enterprises besides producing documentary motion pictures for his lectures. He spent more than a year securing unique film material in Germany just before the start of the war. He filmed the Spanish war fronts and also the Nazi blitzkrieg against Poland. Arrangements for presenting the motion picture and lecture were completed in August by Hugo Larson and John B. Strand, respective presidents of the sponsoring organizations.

Obituary

CPL. HELMER CARLSON

The body of Cpl. Helmer Carlson, who was killed in an Army plane crash near Lake Charles, La., on October 16, was brought to Escanaba last night and was taken to the Anderson Funeral Home.

Services will be held at the funeral home chapel at 8 o'clock tonight and the final rites, at which military honors will be accorded the young flyer, will be conducted at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church in Gladstone. Rev. John Kallman will officiate. Burial will be made in Lakeview cemetery, Escanaba.

MRS. HENRY WARMINGTON

Houghton—Mrs. Henry Warmington, a prominently known resident of the Portage Lake district passed away at 9:30 Thursday morning at the family residence in Dollar Bay.

Mrs. Warmington had been ill only a few hours and her death was unexpected by the many friends of the family in this community.

Mrs. Warmington was born in Ripley on January 15, 1873 and lived there until her marriage in 1897. She was formerly Miss Minnie Schroder and was the daughter of an early pioneer family.

She was a devoted member of the Methodist church and fraternally was associated with Hancock chapter, Order of Eastern Star, and the Royal Neighbors of America.

Surviving are a daughter, Miss

Luella Warmington of Escanaba, and three sons, James and Robert of Iron River, and Lieut. Harry Warmington, U. S. Navy, on sea duty off the west coast.

PAMELA D. TONKIN

Funeral services for Pamela D. Tonkin, two months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Tonkin of Chicago, were held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon at the Alto funeral home chapel. Rev. Otto H. Steen of the First Methodist church officiating. Mrs. Al Olson sang two hymns, "Jewels" and "Does Jesus Care?" Mrs. Fred Carlson was accompanist. Burial was made in Lakeview cemetery.

KENNETH ADAMS

Funeral services for Kenneth Bruce Adams were held at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon in the chapel of the Anderson funeral home, with Rev. Karl J. Hammar of the Central Methodist church conducting the rites. Burial was made in Lakeview cemetery.

The pastor's text, from St. Luke, twelfth chapter, fourth verse, was: "Be ye therefore ready also for the Son of Man cometh at an hour when ye think not." Mrs. Carl Widell sang "Ivory Palaces" and "Sometime We'll Understand." Miss Lois Lundstrom was accompanist.

Pallbearers were Emil Johnson, Arno Bordeaux, John Duncan, Elmer Sidbeck, Leonard Rhaume and Ovid Provo.

Those at the funeral included Wesley Thomas, Mrs. Clark Hitchcock and Miss Verna Brewer of Flint; and Mrs. and Mr. Joseph Little of Wyandotte.

County Potato Show To Open In Escanaba Today

Opening at 10 o'clock this morning with a rating contest and review of samples of the best potatoes grown in the county, the Delta County Potato Show for 1944 will continue through the afternoon with an educational program, and into the evening with a social program at Cornell township hall.

Winners in the table stock and certified seed contest will be awarded a total of $600 in prize money by the Escanaba Potato Boosters association. Altogether about 80 samples of fine potatoes will be displayed in the former Servicemen's Center building in the 600 block, Ludington street.

A total of $370 in awards will be presented to winners in the table stock contest, with awards ranging from a $5 minimum to a first place award of $75. Prize money in the certified seed contest totals $230 and ranges from $5 to $75.

One of the features of the Potato Show will be the selection of a county Potato Queen, who will preside at this evening's dancing party at the Cornell township hall, and will compete next week with other county queens for the U. P. Potato Queen title. There are six girls with farm experience entered in the county queen contest. They are:

Miss Emma Falkies of Baldwin township; Miss Vila Dumas of Ford River township; Miss Jeanette DeBacker of Maple Ridge township; Miss Leona Skrobiak of Bark River township; Miss Betty Buckland of Cornell township; and Miss Clara Solis of Escanaba township.

Yesterday E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent, assisted by some of the county potato-growers, arranged the exhibits in the Servicemen's Center building, making them ready for the rating contest and review to be conducted this morning.

Following is the program for today:

10 a. m.—Rating contest and review of exhibits.

1:30 p. m. at courthouse: Educational program with Clayton Ford of Cornell, chairman.

Remarks—E. A. Wenner, county agricultural agent.

Worry Clinic

With Case Records Of
A Psychologist

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE V-126: Milly W., aged 19, is engaged to be married.

"My fiancé has diabetes, however, and I am wondering if he can be cured," she began.

"His doctor has put him on a diet and says that he can get along all right without the use of insulin, if he follows the rules."

"Dr. Crane, I have heard that diabetics suffer excruciating pain when they die. Is that true?"

"And does diabetes make a man sterile so he cannot have any children?"

Diagnosis:
Diabetes often actually adds years to a person's life! That statement sounds surprising, but it is true.

For a person who is brought up abruptly during early adulthood with the realization that he must order his life intelligently thereafter, even to the extent of following a sane diet, may consequently live.

It is true, of course, that diabetics also shorten life if the victims do not hold themselves under control. Many patients can keep their urine sugar-free and also confine their blood sugar level within normal limits, simply by following a diet.

And by "diet" we physicians don't mean that these individuals starve themselves or become chronic martyrs at the dinner table. Their dieting simply consists of prudence and self-restraint which most of us Americans sadly lack. It is truly stated that we dig our graves with our teeth!

Sit Down Strike by the Pancreas
The pancreas is a gland in the human abdomen which has two types of secreting cells. One kind produces a digestive juice which flows along a duct or tube that empties into the intestine.

The other cells have no drain pipes, so to speak, but are called ductless. They exude their secretion directly into the blood, and this secretion is insulin.

These insulin cells are grouped in more than a million tiny colonies throughout the rest of the pancreatic gland and form Islands of Langerhans.

Why they go haywire and curtail their output of insulin or cease manufacturing it altogether, we are not certain. It may be due to infection or failure to ingest some necessary food chemical, such as the vitamins.

The body simply must have insulin, however, in order to utilize the food necessary for life. So we inject the extra quantity by hypodermic syringe, if a moderate diet still offers more sugar than the striking insulin cells can handle. Unfortunately, insulin will not work when given by mouth.

An untreated diabetic may have three or four times the normal amount of sugar circulating in his blood, since his lack of insulin prevents the storing of sugar in the liver.

But germs multiply rapidly in a sugar environment, so diabetics must be very careful to guard against infection. They must keep their feet especially clean and avoid ingrowing nails or other possible infection spots.

But diabetics don't suffer any more excruciating pain than other people when they die. Nor are they rendered impotent or sterile by this disease. They may be low in energy as a result of failure to utilize their sugar, but when controlled by diet or insulin, they are perfectly normal.

MENTAL WIZARD COMING HERE—Dr. Franz J. Polgar, the most perplexing personality on the entertainment platform today, will appear on the Escanaba Town Hall series on Nov. 1. On both sides of the Atlantic, Dr. Polgar is acknowledged to be a master in the field of telepathy, hypnosis and other psychic phenomena. His program features these remarkable powers in a series of amazing and amusing experiences, each one more baffling than the last. In his lecture demonstration, entitled "Miracles of the Mind," Polgar lays no claim to the supernatural, yet his work transcends common experience and defies explanation. These experiments are accompanied by revelations of the history of the phenomena and an expose of the "psychics." Basically scientific in character, Polgar's program is designed both for education and entertainment. With the ease of an expert showman, he now holds his audiences in a fever of suspense and then plunges them into howls of laughter with his quick wit and unexpected pranks.

Ceremonies at
New Kingsford
Church Sunday

Blessing and imposition of the cornerstones of the new St. Mary Queen of Peace church, in Kingsford, construction of which was started several weeks ago, will be conducted Sunday by the Most Rev. Francis J. Wagner, Bishop of Marquette, with over 40 priests of the Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin assisting in the ceremonies.

The arrangements for the ceremony and the program to follow it are in charge of Rev. Fr. Gerald Harrington, pastor, who formerly was assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church of this city.

A solemn procession to the site of the new church will precede the ceremonies, and following them a dinner, in the form of a civic tribute to the newly organized parish, will be served at the Kingsford Heights community building. Speakers will include Henry Wagner, Kingsford village manager; F. C. Sweeney, superintendent of schools; Wesley J. Davis, township supervisor, and Bishop Wagner.

If you plan to change your summer curtains and drapes for winter ones, make sure they are cleaned before storing, for the winter—atmospheric gases, dust and fine grit which collect in them will injure fabrics.

A brown eyebrow pencil can be satisfactorily used by redheads.

HIT NEW PEAK

Heavy Demand Also Indicated For Absent Voters Ballots

Voting registrations in Manistique have reached an all-time high with 186 new registrations plus a heavy certification of war ballots to servicemen, most of whom are voting this year for the first time. A total of 195 war ballots have been mailed. City Clerk Alex Robertson, reported, of which at least half have gone to servicemen who have not previously voted. Servicemen are not required to register under the Michigan election law.

To date a total of 247 absent voters ballots have been mailed. Robertson said, of which 195 are war ballots to men and women in service. This is by far the largest number of absent voters ballots mailed from Manistique so far in advance of the election.

The absent voters ballots by precincts follow: 24, first precinct; 59, second precinct; 70, third precinct; 84, fourth precinct. War ballots mailed follow: 19, first precinct; 54, second precinct; 53, third precinct; 67, fourth precinct.

The new registrations, exclusive of servicemen, by precincts follow: 20, first precinct; 34, second precinct; 71, third precinct; and 61, fourth precinct.

History of Song
In America Told
At Women's Club

At the regular meeting of the Manistique Women's Club, held on Tuesday at the Lakeside school, Mrs. Monica Irvine and Mrs. Estelle Zerbel of Iron River, Mich., presented a delightful program on "The History of American Song." The program included folk songs from the time of the Pilgrims' arrival to the present day. Mrs. Irvine, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Zerbel, sang several old favorites representative of each era of progress in our country, from the sedate hymns of our Pilgrim fathers, through the minstrel and plantation songs, the honky-tonk classics, into ragtime, jazz, and the modern composers such as Gershwin, Jerome Kern and others. As to the future of truly American music, Mrs. Irvine quoted from "The Song of the Joads": "The country's strong, the country's young. Most of her songs are yet unborn."

The program ended with the singing of "America."

At the business meeting which preceded the program, the club voted to donate $25 to the War Fund.

It was also decided that the next meeting would be a shower of glassware for the cove bar in the Youth Council building.

The meeting of November 21, which will be an evening meeting was designated as Guest Day, at which time the program, "Camera Trails Through Upper Michigan" will be presented by Mr. Harry J. Gruber. The musical part of the program will be presented by Mr. Herbert K. Peterson.

Tea was served after the program. The table was centered by a lighted Jack-O'-Lantern, and refreshments were in the Halloween motif. Hostesses were: Mrs. Fyvie, chairman, Mrs. Willard Bolitho, Mrs. Case, Miss Creighton, Mrs. Ducheny, Mrs. Harbick and Mrs. C. F. Anderson.

BRAKE, DIGNAN
PRAISE KELLYAccomplishments Outlined
By Republican Candidates

D. Hale Brake, state treasurer, and Herman Dignan, secretary of state, Republican nominees for reelection, lauded the accomplishments of the Republican state administration at a party rally held Thursday evening at the courthouse. They were introduced by Dr. C. P. Anderson, Schoolcraft county Republican chairman. John D. Morrison, nominee for auditor general, who was scheduled to accompany Mr. Brake and Mr. Dignan to Manistique was unable to attend.

Brake declared that the Republican organization has reached a new high in its nomination of Morrison, a certified public accountant, to the office of auditor general.

Brake Raps Demo Pledge
The state treasurer reviewed the accomplishments of the administration of Governor Harry Kelly and declared that the Michigan governor has provided a model of good government that is being used as a standard in many other states. He reported that the last of the state's bonded indebtedness will be paid Nov. 15 and added that the state also has built a reserve of 42 million dollars for postwar needs.

Brake struck out at the Democratic party's platform to eliminate the sales tax on food and clothing, to reduce the sales tax to 2 per cent and to distribute $30,000,000 to municipalities.

"That promise cannot be kept and it is not intended to be kept," Brake declared. He said that the Democratic tax plan would leave the state without any funds to do business.

Dignan also praised the administration of Governor Kelly as a businesslike, efficient government in which the state legislature and members of the official cabinet are working in close harmony and cooperation with the state executive.

A resident of the city of Owosso, birthplace of Thomas Dewey, Republican nominee for president of the United States, Dignan devoted most of his address to a review of the highlights of Dewey's political career.

Dignan declared that Dewey's popularity in the state of New York was evidenced in 1942 when he broke the Democratic rule in New York City to become elected governor of the Empire state and was further evidenced since then by the election of a Republican lieutenant governor, backed by Dewey.

The secretary of state emphasized that Dewey has pledged his support to the American military leaders and has promised no military interference with the military program if he is elected president of the United States.

Both Brake and Dignan urged the Republican leaders to get out the vote in the upper peninsula, declaring that a large outstate majority may be necessary to offset the possibility of Democratic strength in Wayne county, where registrations are highest in history and where the Democratic strength has been heavily concentrated in recent elections.

Iron Mountain Takes On Escanaba Here Today; Braves At Ishpeming

IRON MOUNTAIN PRIMED TO WIN

Eskymos End Week Of Hard Work To Build Up Offense

Sports fans may be in for a surprise in today's Eskymo - Iron Mountain football game today. There was no pre-game setup in drilling Friday afternoon. Coach George Ruwiche put his squad through a strenuous last minute session in offensive tactics and if the boys learned their lessons the team may pop out today with renewed touchdown drive.

The Eskymo line, however, will be minus the services of Weir, regular left tackle, who is laid up with injuries. Much of Coach Ruwiche's effort this week has been to fill the gap. LeRoy Finn has been showing up well in that position during practice sessions, and it is probable he will be in the lineup at game time.

The Mountaineers will be here in full strength, primed to repeat their performance earlier in the season, when they eked out a 7-6 decision over Escanaba on their home field. The boys from Dickinson county have had a great season since that game, having won four games and tied one. They still are in the running for U. P. title honors, and while they feel certain of victory today they are taking no chances.

Reports from Iron Mountain indicate that Coach LaJeunesse has given his men plenty of work during the week, and is taking no chances on having over confidence wreck the Mountaineer record.

Coach Ruwiche last night announced the probable starting lineup for today's event, which gets under way at 2 o'clock.

EMERALDS PLAY AT SOO TODAY

Final Away From Home Battle Of Season For Manistique

Manistique. — The Manistique high school football team will play its final away-from-home game of the season Saturday at Sault Ste. Marie. The Emeralds conclude their season's schedule Saturday, Oct. 28, with Marquette playing at Manistique.

The Blue Devils, unbeaten since the opening game which they lost to Escanaba, are favored over the Emeralds, who lost much of their punch when Curley, the Manistique speed merchant, went out of action in the Negaunee game early in the season.

Coach Thor Reque has remodeled his offensive formation and the team is playing a single wing in place of the double wing system that was developed to utilize Curley's speed.

Patz and Courney have been shifted to line positions and Buckley and Shaw moved into backfield spots in order to develop more power.

Coach Reque will start Don Schuster and either Courney or Holm at ends; Schauer and Patz, tackles; John and Rozich, guards; Hentschell, center; Creighton, quarterback; Milavie and Burns, halfbacks; and Buckley or Shaw at fullback.

Others who will make the trip and probably will see action against the Blue Devils are Weber, guard; Allen Schuster and Goudreau, ends; Larson and Tennyson, backs; Roemer, Peterson and Duquette, guards; Dewey, center; Barton, Bowman, Martin, Mosanie, Lundstrom and Devine, backs.

FLIVVERS BEAT STAMBO 20 TO 0

Hilltoppers No Match For Powerful Kingsford Attack

Kingsford high school football team maintained its position in the race for Menominee range and U. P. honors last night by defeating Stambo 20 to 0. The powerful Flivver running attack clicked for a touchdown in each of the first three quarters.

Completely outclassed, Stambo was unable to make an impression on the Kingsford defense and offered no serious danger at any time. In the fourth quarter, with second and third string Kingsford reserves in action, the Hilltoppers managed to work the ball to the 15 yard line on several occasions, but lacked the punch to go further.

In the first period Kosobee, Flivver halfback, made a neat run for 35 yards to draw first blood. LeBoues kicked successfully for the extra point. The second touchdown came in the second stanza when Edwards, halfback, went over from the three yard stripe after a Kingsford 47 yard march. Edwards scored again in the third from the one yard mark, fol-

Annual U. P. Cross Country Run Is Added Sporting Event Today

With entries from three more schools than usual, the annual upper peninsula cross-country run will be an added feature of today's Escanaba-Iron Mountain football game. The event will take place between halves, and will cover a two-mile course, ending up in front of the grandstand.

This annual race usually has had only two entries, Escanaba and Iron Mountain, but this year interest seems to have picked up and two schools are entered in Class CDE competition, while Kingsford is sending a team to run in the Class B division. Three boys from McMillan and a team from Baraga will compete for Class CDE honors.

Manager Henry Wylie has his charges in top condition for the event and is expecting his boys to bring home the bacon. Due to the enlarged entries this year the CDE class will start immediately after and close of the first half, and the Class B run will get under way two minutes later. Ribbons and team trophies will be awarded in front of the field house after the run.

Officials will include Lyle Shaw as starter; George Grab and John Edick will be timers, while scorers will be Fred Bennett, R. C. Shaw and B. B. Loveland. Following are the names of the entries:

Class B Escanaba—Richard Painter, Dan Anderson, John Cress, John Jacobs, Paul Urbom, Clifford Larson, Bruce Campbell.

Kingsford—Don Galbraith, Vernon Kangas, Eugene Fortner, Joe Archibald, Charles Lahti.

McMillan—David Bryers, Charles Van Hoerne, Walter Williams.

Iron Mountain—David McConaughy, William Tesavento, James Luckman, John McConaughy, Robert Frank, John Tembreull, Jerry Gayan, Leonard Greenleaf, Raymond Hughes, Edward Devorsky.

Classes CDE Baraga—Robert Dixon, Talisto Harkonen, Earl Jacobson, Fergus Mann, Robert Takala, Waino, Richard Lytkainen, Arthur Kero.

St. Joe Idle Today, Play Munising Next

St. Joseph high school gridirers will not be in action today. Regular sessions, however, have been maintained during the last week in preparation with renewal of the old feud with Munising next Saturday.

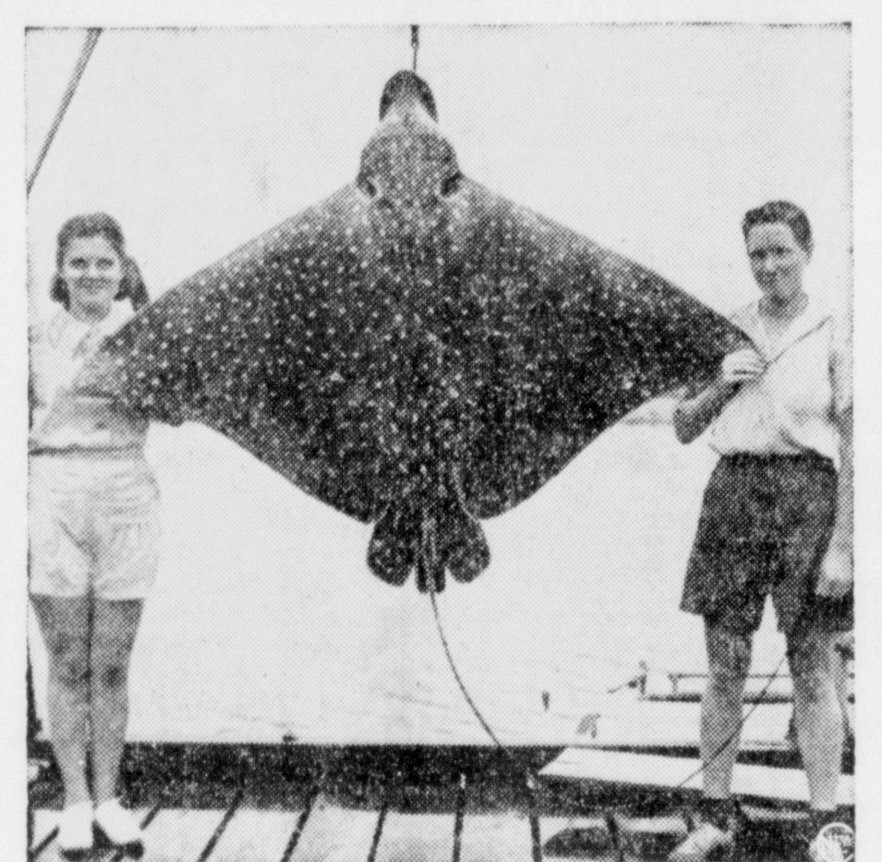

With another week for practice, the boys expect to be in shape to invade the Matherites balliwick and to bring home the little brown jug which Munising captured in their last meeting two years ago.

NOVA FIGHTS KNOX

Newark, N. J., Oct. 20 (AP) — Lou Nova, one of the nation's former ranking heavyweights, now on a comeback trail, has been matched to fight Buddy Knox of Dayton, O., November 6 at Lantel Garden here. Matchmaker Babe Culnan announced today.

lowing a sustained drive of 32 yards.

The victory over Stambo makes it five straight for the Flivvers and temporarily makes them king of the roost in the Menominee range, Iron Mountain having tied one game. In addition they are tied for the U. P. title with Gladstone and Hancock.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Up in the Soo the Blue Devils will observe "Service Clubs Day" in connection with their last home game Saturday with the Manistique Emeralds. As a new twist to the event wives of all members of the Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs will be admitted free. Now there's an idea for bolstering up home game attendance. We understand the offer is bringing out the old folks in pretty good numbers.

Gene Ronzani, former Iron Mountain high school football star, appears to be doing all right for himself with the Chicago Bears. Gene was released in June 1941 to coach the Bear farm team at Newark but he's back again and is given much of the credit for the Bears' comeback last Sunday when they crushed the Pittsburgh entry. Ronzani, now 35 years old and married, completed five out of nine passes for a gain of 59 yards, one of them a touchdown.

Down at Madison, Coach Stuhl-dreier is having trouble with the Badgers. In scrimmage early in the week the Wisconsin lads looked downright sloppy. Later in the week, however, they perked up somewhat, but not until they had been stung repeatedly with remarks about what Notre Dame will do to them. Our opinion is that the Badgers are too late with their "perking" and we look for the Irish to take Wisconsin by a safe margin.

Another big time is scheduled down in Green Bay again Sunday when the Packers and the Cleveland Rams battle it out for the Western division title of the National football league. Both teams go into the game with unblemished records. The Cleveland upsurge has been written and spoken about in terms of amazement throughout the country. It will be considered a professional league miracle if they score their fourth straight triumph by upsetting Green Bay.

The Menominee Maroons already are pointing for the annual Armistice Day clash with Marinette. There has been lots of hokus-pokus with the Menominee team this season, and fans are getting accustomed to seeing linemen carrying the ball and tackles snarling passes. The latest wrinkle, which may be tried out Saturday against Oconto, is shifting Jack (Moose) Kowalski, husky tackle, to the end position. Schluswaski, who trained for the end position, is being given a try at halfback.

Gene Tunney has changed his mind about the value of competitive sports. No doubt Doug MacArthur had something to do with it. Gladstone goes to Ishpeming today. Should be a good fracas. We'll vote for the Braves on this one. We are going out on a limb to pick Stambo in Friday night's game at Kingsford. Pure hunch prompts us to place our money on the Eskymos today.

The chips will be down at Green Bay Sunday afternoon when the invading Cleveland Rams lock horns with the Packers in a battle for the top of the heap in the National Football league.

It will be "play ball" at 2 p. m. A crowd that may rival the Bear game for attendance is expected to be on hand for crucial gridiron joust. Neither squad has lost a game in league competition and this makes the contest one of those "dream" jousts that schedule makers always hope for but seldom realize.

Ticket sales have been way above par all week and there is every indication that the City stadium will be well filled when the whistle blows for the all-important encounter.

The Clevelanders will field the surprise team of the "Cash-and-Carry" circuit. When the season started, the Rams were considered below par but Coach Buff Donelli proved himself a miracle man and his gridirers proceeded to breeze past the Cord-Pitts, Chicago Bears and Detroit Lions.

The Rams are very much airminded. They have a tricky offense and in games to date have always pulled "something out of the bag" in a pinch. This Cleveland outfit bubbles over with "pep" and the players are hustling every minute.

All week long Coach Lambeau has stressed the importance of this fracas to his gridirers and it is probable that the squad will be at a high fighting pitch when they go after victory No. 5 on the road to pennantville.

The probable starting lineups: Green Bay Cleveland Mason, I. e. I. e. Kontski Croft, I. t. I. t. Pudloski Kuusisto, I. g. I. g. Matheson C. Brock, c. c. e. Scarry Tinsley, r. g. r. g. Corbin Schwammel, r. t. r. t. Lytko Jarroski, r. e. r. e. Harris Comp, I. h. b. I. h. b. Colella L. Brock, r. h. b. r. h. b. Kabealo Perkins, I. b. I. b. West

GLADSTONE GRID SQUAD TRAVELS

Unbeaten Braves Invade Ishpeming; Kallman Back In Action

Delta county's only contender for U. P. title honors, the Gladstone Braves will invade Ishpeming today. While comparative scores indicate the two teams are about even, the Gladstone boys will go into battle with the advantage.

The Uppbays have come through the season thus far with four wins and have scored a total of 110 points to 13 for their opponents. A week of regular drill has put the boys in first class condition, and the team will be at full strength at game time.

While Gladstone is primed to protect its standing in high school football circles, the Hematties will attempt to end their season with glory. A victory over the Braves will take some of the sting out of an otherwise mediocre season.

It is expected that Kallman, fullback, who has been nursing an injured ankle, will be in shape to go the full route. The probable starting lineup, as announced last night, was as follows: Youns, Gillis, Johnson, Jugo, Bergeon, Timler, Kinziger, Sigan, Lundmark, Haglund, Kallman.

SPARTANS KEEP RECORD CLEAR

Maryland U. Defeated By Michigan State, 8 To 0, In Mud

College Park, Md., Oct. 20 (AP) —The Spartans of Michigan State college maintained their undefeated season's football record tonight by defeating the University of Maryland, 8 to 0, in a nightmare of mud and a driving northeastern rain storm.

Jack Breslin, 190 pound State fullback ace who spearheaded the Michigan attack, blasted off his left tackle in the second period, and with fine interference splashed 12 yards over Maryland's goal for the only touchdown. In a dreary game, that was interspersed by fumbles and poor kicks because of the high wind and beating rain.

State put the clincher on the game in the fourth period, when Breslin punted 78 yards with the wind and the ball rolled dead on Maryland's nine. The Terrapins were penalized to the one yard line on the next play a bad pass from center was bobbled by Tom Chisari, attempting to punt, and the State forward wall smeared him behind the goal line for a safety and two precious points.

Maryland had its best chance just after the safety, when End Norman Geatz blocked Breslin's kick on State's 46, and recovered the soggy ball on the Spartan 22. One play later, Bob Troll fumbled on State's 19 and Art Artz, Spartan end, recovered on the 22. Less than 500 persons braved the weather for the game.

All Right But Four Last Week; Here Is Today's Grid Pick

BY HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Every thing that goes up must come down, says the old adage, which assures you that this week's percentage will be less than the .911 of seven days ago when only four football losses were registered in 45 decisions:

Notre Dame over Wisconsin: The Badgers have a habit of spilling at least one favorite each year but doubt if the Irish will be their victim this time. It may be a Kelly vs. Girard duel.

Great Lakes over Ohio State: It is old home week for Lt. Paul Brown, who brings his mature sailors to Columbus to oppose the country's No. 1 civilian outfit.

Navy over Georgia Tech: After a disappointing start, Navy will reel in its dragging anchor at Michigan. Wiese and Nussbaumer may be playing their last game against Purdue.

Wiese may have to report to Navy pre-midshipman school at Annapolis, Md., before the Wolverines' next game with Penn at Philadelphia Nov. 4 and Nussbaumer has been ordered to Marine base Oct. 30, two days after the Purdue tilt.

The Wolverines, enjoying a week-end rest from practice, report back Monday for the start of intense preparation for the Purdue tussle.

Hunting And Fishing

By Sid Gordon

STARVING DEER AND SHORT BROWSE Yesterday and the day before, I saw millions, yes millions, of jackpine sprouting all over the barren lands in Washburn, Bayfield, Douglas and Burnett county. Most of them were of natural reproduction, young trees started by nature.

The "mother" trees had dropped their cones and these had laid dormant for some time, often for years. Then the hot sun of a long dry spell or fires across the barrens caused the rocklike cones to open. The winged seeds inside the cones took hold.

The seedlings were but one or two years old, scattered all over the land. Some were of all ages of jack pine three, four to 10 year old stuff. In many spots, there were no mother trees to reproduce reforest many areas.

The fires had so cleaned the barrens in spots that there could be no reproduction for years, not until these trees die. The distance had, by their winged seeds, crept over the area.

Some years ago the CCC lads and the WPA workers had "spudded" the earth and dropped more millions of jack pine seedlings from the nurseries across many badly burned, open acres. There they were now for all to see and to be proud of in their good growth.

I had been ill for about two years and did not get an opportunity to see this great country over which I had worked, all across the state for several years. I had heard and read much about the deer damage done to the seedlings, those planted by man and those of natural reproduction.

Deer can and do, browse off the terminal bud, the top bud of the pines and many claim that this spreads the top, makes a poor crown and bad timber. I have seen many seedlings browsed like this, but when I look for the "damage" a few years later, the trees were growing as if nothing had happened to them.

The millions of young trees I saw growing so sturdily showed me that no deer damage of any consequence whatever had happened to them. I also studied the maple, the birch, every little curling and shrub hunting for the great deer damage to the forest.

No one can fool you about the presence of 500,000 deer in this state of Wisconsin. Any child can clearly read their "sign" if he keeps his eyes on the ground and observes the soft spots, the sandy spots and the fringe of the clear-

STOCK TRADING ON SOFT SIDE

New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—The stock market, on balance, was a trifle soft today although scattered specialties managed to edge into new high ground for the year or longer and selling elsewhere never was urgent.

Encouraging was the Philippine invasion, continued good news from Europe, electron trends and individual business prospects.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was down 1 of a point at 55.8, its first dip since issues registering, 337 were lower, 282 higher and 287 unchanged. Transfer of 5.15 shares compared with 828,700 Thursday.

At best levels for 1944 were North American Aviation, reflecting a local dividend; Crown Zellerbach, National Biscuit, Texas Pacific Land Trust and Great Northern.

BOND TRENDS VARIED New York, Oct. 20 (AP)—Trends were variable in today's bond market and the closing list showed firmness and weakness in about equal degree.

Offerings of some top flight investment issues brought in $54,000,000, none affecting among others American Telephone and American Tobacco 3 1/2. In contrast, Consolidated Tissue 3 1/2 picked up a point.

Rail loans up fractions to around a point included Boston & Maine 4 1/2, Rock Island 4 1/2, and New York Central & Hudson River 3 1/2.

On the loss side were several bonds of Baltimore & Ohio, Central Pacific 5 1/2 and Alton 3 1/2.

Feature of the new issue market today was the offering of $50,000,000 bonds of Philadelphia Electric Co.

In the foreign list progress was made by numerous issues of Brazil and other South American obligations. U. S. treasuries were steady.

Transactions amounted to $9,405,000, face value, against $11,111,800 the day before.

CHICAGO PRICES

CHICAGO BUTTER Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP)—(WFA)—The butter market was firm today and unchanged at OPA ceilings.

CHICAGO EGGS Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP)—(WFA)—Eggs were firm; No. 3 and 4 extra, 45 to 48; current receipts, 38 to 42; other prices unchanged.

CHICAGO POTATOES Chicago, Oct. 20 (AP)—(WFA)—Potatoes, arrivals 12,000 on trucks, 10,000 in shipments. 1925: supplies moderate, demand slow; for Idaho russets, market slightly stronger for utility grade, steady for U. The Roving Reporter own way, the morning after I came aboard. He didn't ask anybody to help him, or tell anybody what he was going to do. He just tied a weight around her neck and let her down into the water. That was her end—in the tradition of the sea.

I heard about it a few hours later, and stopped by the rail to tell our friend I was sorry. He couldn't talk about it. He just said "Let's go below and have a cup of coffee."

A few hours after that I saw that he had started having something else.

In the mid-afternoon I saw one of the ship's officers talking to him very seriously. It didn't look too good. Drinking aboard ship just doesn't go. The next day our friend was called before the mast and given a light suspension of privileges.

At lunch the boys were kidding him about it and he said, well hell, he wasn't sore about it, for obviously they had to do something to him.

That evening I happened to be sitting with the officer who had sentenced our friend, and just to make conversation I mentioned that it was sad about the dog being gone. He sat up and said, "What?"

I said yes, the dog was gone.

He said, "My God!" And then he said:

"He's one of the best men on the ship, and I knew something was wrong, but I tried for half an hour to get it out of him and he wouldn't tell me."

The officer sat there looking as though he was sick, and again he said, "So that was it! My God!"

By the end of the first week there was almost no indication of warfare along our beach front. The German radio told us every night that we were getting bombed, but actually a stultifying peace had settled over us.

Hour by hour we could feel the ship slide back into her normal ways. The watches were dropped down to "Condition Three," which is almost the peacetime regime. The ship's laundry was opened for the first time in weeks. Movies were borrowed and shown after supper. The wearing of white hats became optional once more. The men went swimming over the side, and fished with rod and reel from the forecastle head. The captain had time on his hands and played gin rummy with me when I got worn out with writing. Finally liberty parties were let ashore for sightseeing.

I knew then that the war, for our little family in this special phase, was over. So I shouldered my barracks bag and trundled myself ashore in Stelly for good.

These few weeks with the Navy were grand, and I hated to part from the friends I had made. Too this taste of civilized living had been a strange delight, and yet for some perverse reason I seemed to look forward to going back to the old soldier's way of sleeping on the ground and not washing before breakfast and fighting off fleas. Man is a funny creature.

SAFE WALKING DRIVE STARTED

Pedestrians Urged To
"Watch Your Step"
On Street, Road

A Michigan-wide pedestrian safety campaign has been opened in Michigan with the Escanaba police department cooperating with the Michigan Safety Commission in directing the attention of pedestrians to the need for care in walking on streets and highways.

In Delta county so far this year four of the five traffic fatalities have been pedestrian deaths.

Following a period of education, in which the pedestrian is to be informed on his responsibility in observing safety rules, there will be special campaigns to enforce the new uniform pedestrian safety regulations throughout the state.

November and December are considered the most dangerous for pedestrians, and the safety emphasis program will be continued through those months.

The ten most serious pedestrian accident causes will be given publicity, so that pedestrians will be more cautious in their walking habits. Particular attention will be given the manner of crossing at intersections, of discouraging "jay-walking," stepping suddenly into the street from between parked cars, and walking on the wrong side of highways—with the pedestrian's back to traffic.

Seventy per cent of the traffic deaths in Michigan cities are pedestrian deaths. In the first six months of 1944 records show that two out of three pedestrians killed at intersections were attempting to cross against the red light.

Dams Are Erected For Stream Control

Newberry — The conservation department hopes to demonstrate with small dams on trout streams of the Upper Peninsula that man-made installations of the kind are better than the dams built by beaver in creating conditions favorable to trout.

A dam has been built recently on Clear creek, north of Seney, which will allow control of the stream level and passage of fish up and down the stream. Such dams can create pools that may help to increase trout carrying capacities of streams.

PROMOTED—Major William J. Karas of Escanaba was recently promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the U. S. Army Engineers. Lt. Col. Karas has been in the service four years and has served overseas 22 months. He is now stationed in Italy. His wife and two children, Ben and Bob, reside at 1022 Eighth Avenue South. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Karas, South Eleventh street.

Moose Are Sighted In Upper Peninsula

Marquette—Latest reports of the presence of moose at scattered points in the Upper Peninsula come from nearby Hiawatha Shores where two cottagers, Ed Patenaude and Carl Wittler, recently saw a big bull moose, cow, and calf. Footprints of the bull measured 11 inches in length.

Moose have been seen recently north of Escanaba and on the Keweenaw peninsula.

Sixty-nine moose were brought to the Upper Peninsula from Isle Royale by the conservation department between 1934 and 1937 when lack of natural food on the island was resulting in deaths from starvation of hundreds of animals. Moose seen recently may be the last survivors or the progeny of the transported animals.

Leaning Buildings

The Leaning Tower of Pisa, Italy, has been famous for centuries because it deviates from the perpendicular more than 16 feet. Many other cities of Italy now possess leaning buildings.

Munising News

CHARLES LEHIGH

Funeral services for Charles Lehigh who passed away Wednesday evening will be held Saturday at 2 p. m. from the Beaulieu and Madison funeral home on Munising avenue. The Rev. K. O. Savaried will conduct the services and interment will take place in Maple Grove cemetery.

Escorts will be John Vadnais, Otto Aho, John Goffredson, Philip Lehigh, Edward White and Charles Hanson.

Mr. Lehigh, who passed away Wednesday evening at the age of 66, had been a resident of this vicinity for the past 35 years. During his years here he was employed by the Jackson and Tindle company for many years, worked for the C. C. I. Co. and in later years was salesman for the Watkins company.

He had been in ill health for about a year. He was born in St. Ignace in 1878 and prior to coming here lived in Marquette. Surviving are the widow; two sons, Darwin of Munising and Theodore, U. S. Navy, in the Pacific; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Emma Miller of Muskegon; two stepsons, Allen Bailey, Munising, and Clarence Bailey, Trenary; two brothers, Robert Lehigh, Spooner, Wis., and William Lehigh, Los Angeles, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. William Darling, Spooner, Wis., and Mrs. John Thornton, Rudyard.

Mr. Lehigh was an active member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

COURT SESSION ON

The Alger county circuit court opened Tuesday with Judge Herbert Rummels presiding. The first case on the court calendar was the case of Nick Gherondaras vs. the Cyr Bottle Gas company. This case was on for three days and was finally declared a mistrial. The case of Joseph Jerry, charged with breaking and entering in the night time, came to the jury on Friday noon and the civil case of Harvey Fiel vs. Samuel Cramer was next on the calendar for Friday afternoon.

There were also five divorces granted.

MUNISING BRIEFS

Robert Burns of Wakefield, district governor of Rotary International, was a guest of the local Rotary club at the weekly luncheon Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Thompson of Detroit have moved to Munising to reside permanently. Mrs. Thompson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Glatus.

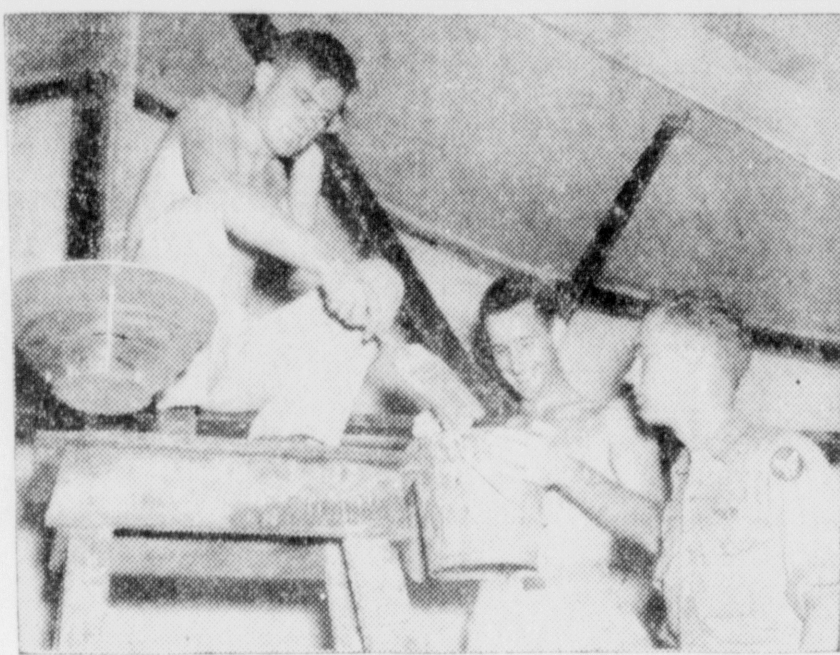

Mrs. Earl Ness has returned to Escanaba after spending a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Oslund. Mrs. Ness has been residing in Everett, Wash., where her husband has been stationed with the Seabees.

S/Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Matson have returned to Scott Field, Ill., after spending two weeks with relatives.

Rev. and Mrs. Knute Savaried, Mrs. Lewis Vickman, Mrs. George Huse, Mrs. Newell Hamell, Mrs. Norman Oslund, Mrs. Ethel Hartung and Mrs. Frieda Schwartz attended the district convention of the W. S. C. S., held Tuesday in Negaunee.

Miss Dorothy Cannon of Midland, Mich., arrived here Thursday to visit at the Hanniss Elliott home for two weeks.

Rapid River

U. S. O. Drive

Rapid River—The U.S.O. drive for funds for the boys in service is going along very nicely and it is hoped and expected by the workers that the full quota will be realized. Masonville township's quota is $900. Workers in this area are Fred Cavill, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Toyne Armstrong, Mrs. Grace Casimir, Miss Dorothy Cavill, Mrs. Ebba Nevans.

Clothing Drive

The clothing drive sponsored by the various churches to collect clothing to be sent to the people in the war-stricken countries was considered a success. Rev. Gerald Smith reports that the congregational church with the other four churches of his circuit, Isabella, Cooke, Garden and Fayette, sent 670 pounds which consisted largely of men's, boys' and women's clothing with a small amount of children's and infants' clothing. Father Thomas Anderson of St. Charles church here and St. Rita's at Trenary shipped out approximately one ton as follows: men's and boys' heavy overcoats and mackinaws, two cases, 20 articles; men's and boys' woolen goods such as suits, jackets, sweaters, underwear, etc., five cases, consisting of 225 articles; men's and boys' cotton goods, shirts, work clothes, underwear, pajamas, robes, etc., one case, 120 articles; women's and girls' woolen goods, coats, jackets, sweaters, skirts, snowsuits, underwear, etc., seven cases; bedding, one case; infants' wear, all kinds, one case, 85 articles.

The following ladies were in charge of the sorting and packing which was handled in the vacant Kirch building: Mrs. Sandy Short, Mrs. Angela Gompert, Mrs. Elva Schram, Mrs. K. Scott, Mrs. Andrew Wils, Mrs. James Kennedy, Mrs. Eva Pfeifer, Mrs. Ned Short and Mrs. Ed Lind.

News From Men In The Service

MMO, 3/C. Earl St. Martin, 21, who participated with United States Navy forces in the invasion of Saipan, Guam and the Marshalls, is spending a 36 day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard St. Martin, 1301 South 13th street. At the invasion of Saipan he was a member of a crew on a landing barge that, under Jap fire, made 125 trips in 13 hours evacuating the wounded.

Earl St. Martin "You wouldn't know there was a Jap on shore when the invasion started," St. Martin said. "They waited until we were out in the open before they opened up on us. Meanwhile our forces were bombing and strafing in an effort to weaken their resistance, but resistance did not weaken materially until eight weeks afterward. The Japs had to be hunted down to the last man."

Serving on a troop transport and cargo ships, MMO, 3/C. St. Martin has been serving overseas in the Pacific war theater for 13 months. From Saipan he moved on to Guam with the invasion forces, then to the Marshalls.

He graduated from Escanaba high school in 1943 and has been in the Navy since July 18, 1943. His brother, Cpl. Harold St. Martin, 19, was at the invasion of Palau and is now with forces prepared to invade the Philippines. The brothers almost met—their ships passed each other at Pearl Harbor, one going in, the other out of the harbor.

Pfc. Richard Gouin, 21, of the U. S. Air Forces, stationed in England, is one of five servicemen sons of Oliver Gouin, of Isabella.

Pfc. Gouin has been in service for 20 months, and has been in England for over a year. His four brothers in service are Staff Sgt. Charles Gouin, who is in Australia; Sgt. William Gouin, in England; Bkr. 1/c Edward Gouin, who is now home on leave after serving in Cuba; and Seaman 2/c Albert Gouin at Treasure Island, San Francisco, Calif.

Pvt. Walter Derusha, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Derusha, who has been in the service for 20 months, is now serving with the United States Army in France.

PROSECUTING ATTORNEY

To The Voters Of Delta County:

I am a candidate for the office of Prosecuting Attorney of this County on the Republican ticket. Due to the war time restrictions, it is impossible for me to canvass the County in a proper manner, or to contact very many of the voters of this County personally. I am, therefore, using this method of contacting you and asking for your support and vote in the coming November election.

My opponent, Mr. McGonagle, voluntarily joined the U. S. Navy a little over a year ago. He is again running for re-election. I have publicly stated that if I am elected to the office of Prosecuting Attorney, and, if Mr. McGonagle returns during the next term of this office and is discharged from the service, I will, at his written request, turn the office over to him. I made this promise with the view in mind that every service man returning home discharged from service should find some sort of a job waiting for him, if he wants it, so now I affirm my promise.

I am married and have a family of three small boys. I have been a life long resident of Delta County and have been practicing law in this County for more than twelve years.

Again I say, your vote and support will be highly appreciated.

Yours truly,

Harlan J. Yelland
